

Catskill Hotelmen Push for Casinos

MONTICELLO Catskill Mountain resort owners lined up in strong support for state-wide casino-type gambling at a public hearing held by the five-man state Off-Track Betting Commission at the surrogate judge court room, Tuesday.

Greenberg put some preparation into his presentation to the five-man OTB Commission headed by Kent Brown of Albany. Greenberg gave a 20-minute talk complete with charts pointing out the need for the gambling casino concept. Greenberg is strongly opposed, on the other hand, to off track betting terming it "a regressive tax."

who opposed the state-wide proposal for gambling primarily on moral grounds. Eschenberg also complained of the lack of public information on Tuesday's hearing and said he would request another hearing.

bling "was a way of life." Grosinger saw casino gambling as an economic boon to the area, figuring that it would increase his payrolls by one-third. Greenberg contended that gambling would bring thousands of tourists, adding to the economic betterment of not just the resorts but the whole area.

inated through legalized procedures. The gambling proposal also was cited as a tax-raising vehicle. Supervisor Ralph Meyer of Thompson claimed that taxpayers are on the brink of disaster and that the economy of the country had declined to the point of being pitiful.

there is a dire need for the establishment of legalized gambling. "If the State of New York has to depend on gambling, God help New York State and God help Sullivan County," Eschenberg answered.

the commission is expected by February. Brown saw no possibility of off-track betting legislation being passed in the next session of the state legislature but opined that there might be a move for the withdrawal of the state's prohibition on gambling, paving the way for off-track gambling casinos.

New City Flag, Seal Project of Aldermen

By HUGH REYNOLDS KINGSTON The Common Council is working on a new city flag and a new city seal, it was revealed at Tuesday night's regular meeting of the aldermen.

The same design could be used for the city seal which now shows the founding of the three sections of Kingston, Wiltwyck in 1632, Rondout in 1858 and the city itself in 1872.

A number of appointments resolution asking that Clinton from Mayor Francis R. Koenig Avenue Extension be named were read including Minford Plaza Road. The name Plaza Overfield of 85 Harding Avenue, Road is being strongly objected Ralph Palen of 88 West O'Reilly to by the Uptown Businessmen's Street and Thomas Hughes of Association, who notified the Board of Electrical Examiners; such a name would be an "af-Manuel Colao of 159 Tammany front to the historic area Street to the Board of Public through which it passes." Works; George Aird of 10 The businessmen propose, Reynolds Street to the Planning instead to name the road Board and Mrs. Avery Smith Clinton Avenue, dropping the of 48, Maiden Lane to the word "extension," and name that section between the new road and the present Clinton Avenue something like Senate Square or Senate Concourse.

BACK TO THE DRAWING BOARD—It was school bell time again this morning and Elissa Celuch, teacher at School No. 8, Franklin Street, wastes no time in taking up after that long, summer recess. Students include (L) Brinda Rowles, Virginia McDonald, Gina Rowles and Linda Rowles. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Primary Day in Kingston is Sept. 14 with aldermanic contests in the Seventh and 13th Wards. . . . Story Page 2.

Finch and Heitzman presented the rendering shortly before the Council recessed for caucus but quickly ran into parliamentary problems. City seals and city flags are part of the charter and cannot be changed without a revision of the charter.

The matter was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee, the corporation counsel, Aaron E. Klein and the city historian, Harry Rigby for further study.

PREMIER RESIGNS—Yemini Premier Lt. Gen. Hassan Al Amri has resigned after he killed a local photographer during an argument which began when their telephone lines became crossed, the Egyptian Middle East news agency said in a dispatch from Sana. 'Subtle' Drug Program for New Paltz Central

By WADE BURKHART NEW PALTZ The new drug program in the New Paltz Central System, launched this year with a $25,000 grant from the New York State Addiction Control Commission, will be a "subtle" one, according to Richard Stanulwich, its director.

Stanulwich is a 1969 graduate of Marist College and since then had worked with NYSAAC as a rehabilitation counselor, dealing with addicts. His work in rehabilitation has thoroughly convinced him of the necessity to solve their problems. Stanulwich told The Freeman. He thought the providing of "another avenue" could well prove "invaluable."

Stanulwich said as far as he knew the Kingston school district was the only other district in Ulster County to be funded under the NYSACC program. The funds for the school programs are channeled through the Ulster County Drug Commission.

In the Duzine School, for grades K-4, Stanulwich said the program will deal mostly with teachers and parents. The program will try to educate so students "will have somebody to relate to," Stanulwich said.

to date, on the drug problem, If parent - student counseling seems appropriate, however, it will be provided. He will be working with some of the classes, too.

Connally Defends Economic Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Treasury Secretary John B. Connally today disputed charges that President Nixon's new economic program discriminates against the poor and is a bonanza for business. He said the plan will give individuals $7 billion in tax relief.

The President will address a joint session of Congress Thursday, presumably to seek bipartisan support for his program.

Connally defended the administration's decision not to include business profits in the 90-day wage-price-rents freeze. He said profits were at their lowest point since 1938.

Nixon's chief economic spokesman asked congressmen returning from a 32-day summer recess not to tamper with the President's program.

Democratic leaders have attacked the Nixon program for favoring business at the expense of wage-earners.

Confused Start for State Teachers

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The new school year is getting off to a confused start in much of New York State as the result of the federal wage-price freeze and some local disputes over contract terms.

Many teachers are returning to the classroom with contract agreements but no certainty about what their employers intend to pay them under terms of the economic policy announced by President Nixon in mid-August.

In other cases, contract settlements have not been reached, posing the threat of teacher walkouts.

Where agreements have been finalized, local school boards often still are in doubt about what figures to put on pay checks.

Some have decided to pay the higher amounts contained in contracts negotiated and bearing an effective date prior to Aug. 15, when the wage-price freeze was announced.

Other districts, however, are reluctant to pay additional money that teachers may have to give back later.

Bench Warrants Are Issued For Five in County Court

KINGSTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Counsel for McCord pointed out to the court that in the two years since the arrest, the defendant has "not been involved in any anti-social conduct," that his "life is stabilized" and that he is employed.

Arrested in May of 1969, McCord, a drummer with a Woodstock rock group had been charged with possession and sale of drugs to an undercover agent.

Judge Mino also issued bench warrants for the arrest of five persons under indictment by the grand jury who failed to appear in court.

They include Rex Edward Joy, Frederick L. Riley, Josephine Lee Chapman, Sheryl Ann Duncan and James Coleman Harris.

Rocky Would Double The Doria Listing

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Gov. Rockefeller is seeking to double the number of counties by adding Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester and Putnam counties to the four already declared eligible for special federal aid.

Kingston Primary Day Slated September 14

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Primary Day in Kingston will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 14, with aldermanic contests in the Seventh and 13th Wards.

Titus B. Sims, the incumbent Republican-Conservative residing at 42 Pine Grove Avenue, has the Conservative nomination in the 13th Ward but is being opposed in a Conservative primary by Mrs. Edna Sperling of 170 Henry Street.

The Republican primary in the Seventh Ward pits the convention's choice, Thomas Davitt of 174 Albany Avenue against Richard Cahill of 83 Garden Street. Cahill was the GOP candidate in that ward the last two elections.

William Bodenweber is the Democratic-Liberal candidate in the 13th Ward in the fall election.

Olive Delays Referendum

OLIVE, N.Y. (UPI)—The public referendum for a $200,000 bond issue for development of a recreation park, playground and swimming pool in the Shokan area has been postponed from this Saturday, to Wednesday, Sept. 29, by the Olive Town Board.

In action taken at Wednesday night's board meeting, it was noted that the legal amount of time that must follow the posting of a referendum notice had not been allotted and the date was changed.

Voting will begin at 12 noon and will continue to 9 p. m. at all five Town of Olive polling places. All registered voters in the town are entitled and encouraged to vote.

A Board of Review was appointed to hear grievance day cases, in conjunction with a recent recommendation handed down from the State of New York. Appointed to the board are: Irving Carlsen, Michael Gyves and Charles Hessel.

A zoning commission was also set up, including the present members of the planning board, plus Mrs. Erna Levens and Michael Appuzo.

Two Arrested In Paltz on Drug Charges

NEW PALTZ, N.Y. (UPI)—A Poughkeepsie youth and a 16-year-old Albany girl were arrested at 11:40 p. m. Tuesday by village police on charges involving the criminal possession of implements adapted for administering drugs.

Chief James Walrath reported Claudine R. Klein, of 3 Pierce Street, Albany, was charged with criminal possession of dangerous drugs sixth degree—marijuana and criminal possession of an implement—a pipe. She was held in $500 bail pending a hearing Friday before Town Justice Rexford Schneider.

Walrath said Kenneth J. Atchison, 17, of Cannon Street, Poughkeepsie was taken into custody on charges of loitering first degree and criminal possession of an implement—a pipe—a violation of the State Health Law. Bail was fixed for the youth at $100 and hearing was put over until Friday.

Patrolmen Richard Thompson and Charles Davis made the arrests on Main Street in this town.

Waste Piles Afire

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There are nearly 300 coal waste piles on fire in various parts of the nation, fouling the air with smoke, gas and ash, and accounting for scores of injuries and at least 55 deaths over the years, according to the Federal Bureau of Mines.

The agency said better advance planning is needed badly, along with new methods of using coal mine wastes.

declared a disaster area as a result of tropical storm Doria by adding Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester and Putnam counties to the four already declared eligible for special federal aid.

The governor Tuesday asked President Nixon to formally add the four counties to Dutchess, Orange, Rockland and Richmond counties, which drew the disaster designations last week.

Rockefeller told Nixon that "the four additional counties have reported a total estimated amount in excess of $1 million of local funds has been expended or obligated to cope with storm damage."

On a related note, Rep. John G. Dow, D-N.Y., reported the Small Business Administration estimated uninsured damage in Orange, Rockland, Dutchess and Richmond counties nearly $1 million.

A breakdown put the estimates in Orange at $600,000; Dutchess $55,000; Rockland $200,000; and Richmond $107,000.

The SBA emergency declaration makes businessmen and non-profit groups eligible for low-interest loans to recover uninsured losses.

Letters to Editor

Sept. 3, 1971

Materialistic People

Editor, The Freeman:

I can't imagine where the local Americanism Committee chairman found this great religious influence he alludes to in his latest letter to the editor. Americans religious? Influenced by a desire to achieve a spiritual reward in lieu of worldly possessions? Don't make me laugh. We Americans are, by far, the most materialistic people the world has ever seen. Our national religion is greed and wealth is our god. Less than six per cent of the world's population, we consume 40 per cent of the world's resources in any given period.

Still, this in itself wouldn't be so bad if these resources were used to improve the quality of life for all Americans and for our brothers and sisters all over the world. But, they're not. They are exploited to increase our growing supply of consumer goodies—the incredible array of luxuries we Americans have come to demand. While our young men gave their lives for the American way of life we turned this way of life into a joyride in our snowmobiles and a dip in our private backyard pool.

Those of us who have become concerned about the American environment are especially disturbed by the extent to which this mania for playthings and gadgets has permeated the American culture. Some of the dialogue we participate in is enough to make one gag. Consider this hypothetical conversation, for example, with Mr. Average American:

"You know, we're really in trouble with our environment."

"Yes, I know. Very bad business."

"Our air is loaded with deadly chemicals."

"Uh-huh. You'd think they'd be able to do something about that."

"Our water is filthy."

"Yes, you have to go clear to Canada to get in some decent fishing."

"Wildlife is vanishing."

"Bad. Very bad."

"We're using our resources almost as fast as we can process them. In fact, we're running out of a lot of vital ones. Our children could be in deep trouble in a few years."

"Yes, isn't it terrible?"

"It just may be that the answer to the whole problem is to cut back, to lower our standard of living; at least, to give up some luxuries."

At this point Mr. Average American breaks out in a cold sweat. His eyes open wide with fright. Visions of his two cars, his trail bikes, his boat and camper, his swimming pool and his house full of electric gadgets flash fleetingly, lovingly, before his eyes.

"But—but," he stammers, "surely we won't have to go that far."

Still, we press on. (We ecologists are a persistent lot.) We argue that we may indeed have to voluntarily lower our standard of living in order to save our country and our planet from environmental degradation. We point out that the environment is not limitless, that one can't exploit finite resources at a furious pace and expect them to last forever. We conclude with that age-old pearl of parental wisdom—"You can't eat your cake and have it, too."

It becomes obvious that my adversary has had enough. His eyes narrow defensively and he begins to look at me as though I had just admitted that I had been a close friend of Che Guevara. "Aw, g'wan," he grumbles. "They'll think of something."

And this is it as far as Mr. AA is concerned. The dialogue is over, concluded with an expression of faith in the deities of the American religion—"them."

Who is this "they"? Mr. AA has so much faith in? God and His angels? The prophets? Brahma, Vishnu and Siva? Will they descend and cleanse the earth? Will they create new resources for us when the ones we have are all gone? Will they breathe new life into the species we humans have slaughtered?

No, the gods and angels of Mr. Average American's simple faith are not the invisible ghosts of traditional religion. They are scientists, politicians, bureaucrats, capitalists—mere mortals like you and I. By careful management and development of the flawless American technology these men will solve all of our problems and save us all. So let's all be off to the golf course and stop fretting about ecology. Right? Bull!

Mr. Average American usually refers to people like me as "fanatic" and "dreamer." Is it I who have attributed god-like power and wisdom to imperfect human beings simply because they have been trained in physics, chemistry, or the treatment of waste water?

In conclusion, I'd like to say that I wish that the Americanism Committee Chairman's assessment of the moral strength of America was accurate. I, too, feel that the strength this country once had was a spiritual strength—held firm by hard work, sacrifice, restraint and a just regard for the rights and needs of others. But thanks to our whole-hearted acceptance of the Playboy Philosophy and Mad Ave-TV hard-sell we are now a colossal ego trip—the same kind of joyride to oblivion which carried the Romans to the Fall. I hope, for the sake of our country and our children, that we come out of it soon.

Yours truly,

GERALD W. BONE

Gun Legislation

Editor, The Freeman:

I am very fond of The Freeman, in fact it is the only paper I really read. I have put up with poor delivery, no delivery and wet papers but as of now I am stopping The Freeman.

Your editorial on gun legislation was too biased and more than unfair.

What do you think will happen if guns are outlawed? Only outlaws will have them. Did prohibition stop drinking. There will be a fantastic black market in guns. Criminals will have them because they have them now, legal and illegal.

What happens to the Sports-shops, Gunsmiths and Manufacturers: people who make an honest living on legal guns? Put them on welfare and we'll support them too? Isn't it true there are many people who make guns that would be more than happy to make themselves millionaires making them for any one who wanted them? What happens to the thousands and thousands of guns that will be confiscated and what about the losses to the people they are taken from? Aren't 3% of the crimes committed, committed with illegal guns? Isn't it true that New York has the most crimes committed with guns because New York has the largest population? What is their percentage of crimes committed with guns compared to the same population from, say, 3 other cities? Isn't it true that every pioneer had a gun and his very life and livelihood depended on it? Isn't guns one of the items that won this country, built it and has so far kept it on top?

What about the sportsman, the people who belong to clubs and teams that shoot only at targets and in competition? What happened in the countries the communists disarmed? Didn't they say they could take the U.S. without firing a shot? Isn't it true there are many, many know communists pushing this move to disarm the American people? Why isn't it put to a vote to see how many Americans are really anti-gun before cramming it down our throats like everything else? And last but not least what about our sacred constitution? The second amendment that says:

A well regulated Militia being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed.

If we are going to ignore this, then we certainly should have done away with the 5th amendment many years ago. This has protected known criminals for years.

I wish people, whether shooters or not, would honestly answer these questions before joining with the anti-gun movement. It could someday mean the difference in their own freedom and existence.

Our own troubles could soon lead to the demand for self-protection. Remember, "The West was won with a gun."

Sincerely,

NANCY SMITH

To Free Prisoners

Editor, The Freeman:

In a recent letter to the Editor, Sylvia Day stated: "The President has still not answered Hanoi's offer to free prisoners if we will get out by the end of 1971."

With all due respect to Mrs. Day's faith in the integrity of the North Vietnamese Communists, it must be pointed out that they did not "Offer to free prisoners" (Quotes are from Mrs. Day's letter). In actuality they offered to discuss the question of prisoners. Quite a difference between the verbs free and discuss, Mrs. Day!

Also it is startling to read Mrs. Day's criticism of the Thieu government in South Vietnam which came into power through general elections. For at the same time she praises General Minh, who became chief of state thanks to a bullet in the brain of Premier Diem, with not a vote being cast.

Very truly yours,

EUGENE LOUGHLIN

Publicity Appreciated

Editor, The Freeman:

The time has come and gone, but not the memories; when 60 Fresh Air Fund Children from New York City came to the Saugerties-Kingston area for a two-week stay. The families who opened their hearts and their doors as Fresh Air Fund Hosts will continue to remember the little incidents that made their reaching out worthwhile; but for the 60 children who came to this area it has been quite a "memorable" experience, an experience of love, of an alternative to a better life, of true joy in discovering lasting friendships—no barriers of race or religion. Yes, I think our children will make this a better world!

We could go on—but the purpose of this letter wasn't to eulogize but to thank. None of the above would have happened, if it hadn't been for publicity given to the Fresh Air Fund Committee. We would have never got in touch with all these wonderful families if they hadn't read of the project of inviting a child into their homes in our newspapers. It just couldn't have been done! Thank you for your help with the publicity.

Sincerely,

Mr. & Mrs. Scott Gilpin

Gardiner Public Hearing

Fee Schedule Established for Dump

By WADE BURKHART

GARDINER

A fee system for commercial use of the Gardiner town dump was the subject of a public hearing in connection with the Tuesday night meeting of the Gardiner Town Board.

Commercial use was defined as the dumping of any refuse in the dump where the dumper receives financial gain from it. Any town resident will be able to use the dump without charge for dumping refuse generated on his own property; the ordinance, if adopted, is only aimed at commercial users.

A tentative fee schedule was established. A fee of $2 will be charged for a pickup truck of garbage, $5 for a dump truck full, and $5 for a compactor truck full, according to the proposed schedule. Town Justice Warren McDowell suggested a fee similar to the Town of Platekill's of $600 per year for a commercial user, with a maximum of 120 dumps per year.

A local contractor, Jack Wheeler, protested that he would be paying twice in taxes for the dump once as a property owner, and once as a commercial user. Town Supervisor George Majestic said Wheeler paid property taxes only covering his private, residential use of the dump. His commercial use was something extra, and he should pay for it, Majestic said.

It was decided that refuse generated by a place of business in the Town, such as a store, would not have to be paid for. It was felt the commercial businesses pay commercial taxes which would support their use of the dump.

The dump has been a troublesome item for the town; on July 22 the town was fined $4,000 by the State Department of Environmental Conservation for 16 violations of state sanitary laws in its operation of it.

The town board is in the process of appealing the fine, but they are required to post a surety bond for the $4,000 to insure their compliance with the law unless and until they successfully appeal it. Majestic said the bond had to be posted by Sept. 22, and it will be taken up at a special meeting of the board.

Majestic said it was the hope of the board to have the dump situation firmly in hand by Sept. 22.

The fee ordinance will now be drawn up by the town attorney and subjected to another public hearing before it is acted upon.

The town's voting machine custodians wrote a letter to the town saying there was more work to their duties than realized, and they want a raise from $25 to $45. The town will take it up at a budget time, which is fast approaching.

McDowell and Town Justice Stokes explained how the new state law concerning constables will effect the Gardiner constables. The actual changes, as explained by the justices, were more in procedure than power. The constables will no longer be able to issue tickets, but will have to arrest the offender and bring him before a justice. They also will not be able to serve an arrest warrant.

Their arrest powers are roughly the same as before the law took effect.

James Doherty, who is entitled to the senior citizens property tax exemption but has had his property split by the town assessors and is only getting the exemption on part of it, produced a letter from the State Board of Equalization and Assessment saying he was right, and the assessors were wrong.

Community Minded Woman Honored

Special recognition for 25 years of service to area firemen, professional men, ambulance, and others was bestowed upon Blanche M. Becker prior to the Red Hook village board meeting Tuesday night.

Blanche Becker, confined to a wheelchair for all of that time, has operated an answering service for several public and private organizations and individuals. She was given a plaque in a surprise presentation at the Village and a member of the Board Building and plans to continue with her duties.

Mayor Robert Bowman, in presenting the plaque, said it took a special kind of person to do this job because many emergency callers become excited on the phone.

Blanche Becker said, "I do this for happiness."

During regular village business, the late Harold J. Coon was honored posthumously by the village board by resolution. Coon was chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals and a member of the Board of Elections.

Other business had the board scheduling a public hearing on a proposed local law regulating the demolition of unsafe buildings for Sept. 20, 8 p.m. Village attorney Douglas Wicks is also drafting a local law regulating mass gatherings.

Mayor Bowman read a letter from Jack Hill, Dutchess County Department of Health, reporting on progress in controlling the liquid effluent at Orchard Hill Farms frozen food factory.

It stated that Orchard Hill's plans have been submitted to the Department of Environmental Conservation; a professional engineer has been retained; and the existing system is working as well as it can.

Bowman commented that a new type of deodorizing unit had since been installed and added, "I think the Health Department is keeping right on top of this."

Trustee James Melley suggested the village board begin investigating what funds are available for installation of a sewerage system. The village presently has none. "Soon they'll be telling us to install a system," he said, referring to the state.

Trustee John Gilfeather, reporting on the progress of cable television, said that outlets will be available in the Village of Red Hook by the "end of November." Two crews are supposed to begin working simultaneously in the Villages of Red Hook and Rhinebeck from Kingston Cablevision.

Trustee Miller D. Magley, in speaking about the large amount of paperwork necessitated by the new criminal code, said, "If I see overload of typing by the patrolmen, I will suggest some other arrangement be made," adding that perhaps a part-time typist might be necessary.

The board approved the sending of new patrolman Robert Moul to a state-run police school at Ulster County Community College for a six-week course beginning in October.

Mayor Bowman said he had sent letters to several property owners asking that they clean up their property. If not, he added, the village may do it for them and put it on their taxes.

Trustee Magley stated that there had been 21 speeding violations recorded during the month of August and "none of them were dismissed." Bowman termed this a "fine justice's report."

And all village employees and officials will meet Saturday for the third annual village barbeque at the village garage. There were about 60 present last year.

Ellenville School Raises ... Issue Becomes Cloudy Again

ELLENVILLE, contract. Some Ellenville teachers have been paid at the contract's higher second year rate through the summer, and according to previous federal information, if some teachers in a district were paid at the president Nixon's wage freezing provisions, and would abide by the district's teachers decision was.

Ellenville School District teachers will be getting their contracted raises in their first pay check, but how long the raises will stay in is not clear. Superintendent of Schools Thomas J. Hayden told Freeman, "What was clear last week isn't any more."

Last week, on the basis of counsel of the State Education Department, federal officials, and local counsel, the district said it would grant the raises, Hayden said.

However, the word from the federal Cost of Living Council, according to Hayden, is the council may not go along with the so-called "Maryland Decision," by which the Ellenville District went ahead with the teacher raises.

The Ellenville teachers are on the second year of a two year

No Disciplinary Action Is Planned Pending Probe in Schenectady Jail Riot

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (UPI) — Officials say no disciplinary action will be taken pending a full investigation of the disturbance Tuesday in which billy club-swinging trustees wrecked two floors of the Schenectady County jail.

Dist. Atty. Elbert Watrous said measures against either inmates or jail employees would be withheld until after an investigation by local authorities and the State Department of Correctional Services.

Meanwhile, the same group of 19 trustees who had broken in to a locker and taken billy clubs to touch off a more than two-hour melee were put to work cleaning up the debris.

"It's a mess," said Tom Welch, jail supervisor in charge of rehabilitation. "It looks like a bomb hit it. There's food all over the floor. Windows are busted, plates, cups, the works. You name it."

He noted, however, that the prisoners did not damage the new TV set in the area, pointing out that "that's recreation." There was no cost estimate of the damage available from Sheriff Harold Calkins, who is in nominal charge of the jail, which has been hit with a series of prisoner protests over the past several months.

Calkins indicated in an interview with a radio newsmen (WPTV) that part of the troubles might have stemmed from laxity on the part of jail employees.

"All you have to do is let your dukes down and someone is apt to come in on you," he said. "And that's exactly what took place."

Calkins said the problem was caused by "a combination of jail employees and the inmate population."

About two dozen riot-equipped city police and sheriff's deputies stood outside the jail during the afternoon as inside the sheriff, a chaplain, Watrous, and a delegation from the inmates discussed the problem. It was reported that the prisoners were dissatisfied with the speed at which improvements were being implemented, following a week-long hunger strike last month.

One prisoner was slightly injured and was treated at a nearby hospital. Officials said that the trouble started about 11:30 a.m. when one trustee started hurling cups and trays in the cafeteria.

He was finally subdued, but an hour later the others staged the takeover of the basement and second floor.

Shortly after 3:00 p.m., the two sides reached an apparent truce, with officials reportedly agreeing to hasten improvements in the facility as much as possible. The prisoners had asked for increased visitation rights, and protested cutbacks in recreational and counseling programs.

Guards at the jail, which housed 48 men and two women early today, reported that everything was quiet.

Mute Big Nell Chalks Up Additional Year in Prison

GOSHEN, N.Y. (UPI) — Mrs. Nellie M. "Big Nell" Williams had another chance to avoid serving a jail term Tuesday but she remained mute again and was sentenced to an additional year in prison.

Mrs. Williams, convicted of operating a well known brothel free if she would say who all in an urban renewal area of lowed her to run the brothel. Newburgh, was sentenced Aug. 27 to a term of not more than two years in the Bedford Hills Facility for Women.

Tuesday, she was sentenced to an indeterminate term of not more than three years after a study of the revised Penal Code revealed the Class D felony for which she was convicted provides for the maximum of three years.

Once again, as he had on Aug. 27, Orange County Judge Abraham Isseks referred to his statement that Mrs. Williams go

Father Calls For Moratorium On Black Crime

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Lester Jackson, whose two sons were killed within a year by lawmen, Tuesday called for a one-year moratorium on black crime to "save our aggressive youths, the black race, and construct a new black image."

Jackson's eldest son, George, was killed in the bloody escape attempt at San Quentin Aug. 21. Jonathan, George's 17-year-old brother, was killed Aug. 17, 1970 in the Marin County Civic Center shootout.

"Our very survival from this day on will depend on how much individual sacrifice we can make to avoid becoming involved with prejudiced law enforcement, prejudiced juries, prejudiced judges."

"It is imperative we become our brother's keeper in this concerted drive to clean our own house," Jackson said.

Former DA Is Nominated In Dutchess

PLEASANT VALLEY — James V. Brands has been nominated Republican candidate for the office of Town Justice in Pleasant Valley at its Sept. 1 caucus.

In accepting the nomination, Brands noted that he could offer the voters of Pleasant Valley his experience as an Assistant District Attorney as a qualification for the post of Town Justice.

He noted the new criminal code, which took effect Sept. 1, can vitally affect anyone who is a victim of or accused of anything ranging from a felony down to a traffic violation.

Brands has practiced law in Dutchess County since his graduation from Albany Law School with a Doctor Juris degree and was an assistant DA for several years until his resignation in June.

He lives on Smith Road in Pleasant Valley with his wife Barbara and daughter Gwen. Brands, a lifelong resident of Dutchess County, received his Bachelor's degree from Hartwick College.

Response From Rhinebeck Supervisor Allen

RHINEBECK distorted picture regarding our discussions with Red Hook on a joint landfill operation. Rhinebeck Supervisor William Allen defended his investigation into sharing the town dump with Red Hook in his first campaign statement today.

In responding to criticism from Donald Stickles, who is also seeking the GOP nomination at the town caucus Thursday, Allen said, "My opponent and Councilman Wolfert, in their statements of last week, also attempted to give a

"My opponent had many opportunities to demonstrate his leadership ability when he attended some hearings on the Zoning Law and a few Town Board meetings. But not once did he get up, offer a suggestion, make any criticism or in any way show that he is a leader with ideas and convictions," said Allen.

Allen explained the facts on the landfill operation as the following: "In March, 1971, Red Hook approached us with a request to make a study of the possibility of a joint landfill operation. I felt the Board owed it to the community and as a matter of courtesy to a neighboring town to discuss the request.

"Our Boards held a joint meeting in June where we decided to explore the feasibility of a joint landfill operation. We decided, with Mr. Wolfert present and concurring,

Allen stated, "I hope the people know me better, after 12 years of public service, to believe any talk of secret Board meetings on any matter, As long as I have been on the Board not once did it act on any matter in a secret session." And he concluded, "I stand behind each of my actions with conviction!"

Much Concern Shown Over Changing Image

RHINEBECK The First National Bank of Rhinebeck is planning to hold a social hour and dinner Sept. 20 to voice concern over preserving the character of Rhinebeck, according to Michael A. Fichera, president.

He told The Freeman that persons connected with the bank are "concerned about" the existing commercial buildings if and when shopping centers come to the area.

The program will be presented by Les Rollins, Dutchess County Cooperative Extension Director and James E. Ashton, Cooperative Extension Agent.

Fichera declined to further explore the specific point of the meeting, other than to state concern for the shopping area of Rhinebeck, saying that this will be brought out at that time.

WHERE DINOSAURS ROAMED? — An avid interest in things of a prehistoric nature has prompted three area youths to conduct backyard expeditions at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Farrell, Chestnut Street, Kingston. The youths (L-R) Peter Catania, his twin brother, Paul, 9, and Mark Farrell, 8, have discovered an imprint of a fern in a rock, held by Peter. The book held by Paul indicates that the fern fossil is more than 250 million years old. Mark displays a rock containing a trilobite, an animal considered older than dinosaurs. The boys have also discovered lava, clam shell imprints and imprints of prehistoric moths and coal. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Farrell, the twins are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Catania, also of Kingston. (Freeman photo by Haines).

SECOND TREK VICTIM — Searchers remove body of Lorene Larhette of Sudbury, Mass., the second victim of an ill-fated trek into the Three Sisters Wilderness area of Oregon's high Cascades. More Draft Raids Vowed by Activists CAMDEN, N.J. (UPI)—Sixteen anti-war activists, charged in an abortive raid on a Selective Service office, said Tuesday the destruction of draft files would keep men out of military service, and pledged to raid more draft offices.

"A successful raid in Camden would keep 1,000 men from going into the Army," said the Rev. Peter D. Ford, a Catholic priest from New York City. Ford and 15 others charged in the Aug. 22 raid broken up by FBI agents held a news conference at a Catholic elementary school.

"The government has copies of draft registration numbers matched with a list of names, but they don't keep copies of the actual files," said Ford. Therefore, he said, destruction of local draft board records would slow up induction efforts.

"We regret nothing we've done. We wish we had done more. We pledge to do more," The Rev. Edward Joseph Murphy, another New York City Catholic priest, added.

Michael Giocondo, Camden, contended that Robert William Hardy, whom he called the government informer in the case, had actively urged the group to loot the offices. "He wanted us to take much more violent methods, and at one point he even offered to give us his gun," Giocondo said.

The 16 defendants are among 28 persons accused by the federal government of conspiring to raid the draft board, and

Some Isolated Protests To Busing Integration

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Court-ordered plans for school integration by busing have gone into operation in more Southern and Midwestern school districts, with isolated incidents of protest.

Additional schools were scheduled to open today including the Mobile city-county schools, the largest system in Alabama with some 68,000 pupils, about 40 per cent of whom are black.

Pupils in Mobile report for half-day registration sessions and under a federal court order handed down in July some 6,300 will be bused across district lines to reduce racial imbalance.

In all some 26,000 will ride the buses to school, but most of them will be transported because they live two miles or more from their schools.

School officials in Pontiac, Mich., said they were satisfied with opening day attendance Tuesday of about 63 per cent of enrollment. They expressed confidence the figure would grow in the days ahead.

The most serious incident Tuesday in Pontiac, where dynamite destroyed 10 buses eight days ago, was the arrest of nine women who sought to prevent the buses from leaving a parking lot.

School Supt. Dana Whitmer said security would be increased to prevent a repetition of a rash of attacks by black youths on 18 white students near Pontiac Central High School. He attributed the attacks to outsiders.

In Jackson, Miss., public school officials reported 28,277 children attended classes Tuesday under a new desegregation plan, with the number of students riding buses more than double the 2,000 who rode last year.

Asst. Supt. R.B. Dayton said attendance was down about 700 from last year's opening day but he attributed this to confusion over bus schedules and routes. "We'll have everything worked out by the end of the week," he said.

In Portsmouth, Va., public schools opened under a court-ordered busing plan with first day attendance about 2,000 less than expected. Of 25,000 pupils enrolled about 11,500 are to be bused.

A rally during school hours by the Portsmouth chapter of Save Our Neighborhood Schools drew 300 persons, many of them children. A spokesman said if the busing requirement was not lifted by Thursday the group would call for a "boycott of classes."

Several SONS groups from the Hampton Roads area planned to march at the Capitol in Washington today and to meet with congressmen.

Coal Mining Deaths Take a Sharp Upturn

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. coal-mining death rate took a sharp upturn in July and August after setting a 25-year safety record for the first five months, according to unpublished Bureau of Mines statistics.

Informed sources say the Interior Department, after pointing proudly to the earlier figures, has barred its spokesmen from publicizing the July-August rate which nearly doubled from May-June.

"The only thing the statistics prove," said one Bureau of Mines source, "is that we haven't got the situation under control yet."

"Statistically," commented another, "the records have been about the same for the past 20 years. There's been no significant trend."

The department, whose mine-safety enforcement program has come under increasing attack, cites what it calls "the lowest fatality rate, during the first seven months of this year, in the statistical history of coal mining."

Eighty-six miners were killed during the first five months, for a ratio of 73 fatalities per million man-hours worked. The six-month ratio fell to .69.

The picture suddenly changed in July when 17 men died, setting a one-month rate of .97 fatalities per million man-hours and pushing the seven-month figure back to .72.

Bureau of Mines personnel tried to announce the upswing but could not get official clearance for a news release, sources said.

A reference to the July death rate, in a speech written for Mines Bureau Director Elbert E. Osborn for delivery in Denver Aug. 22, was edited out by the department, sources said.

In August, the latest reports show, at least 20 men died in the coal mines. Man-hour figures are not available yet, but it appears the August fatality rate will approach one death per million hours worked.

NEW: DENTAL COVERAGE FOR YOUR CHILD. COST: 7½¢ A DAY. CATCH: YOU HAVE TO WANT IT, AND SAY SO.

WHOSE PLAN IS THIS, WHO IS COVERED, WHO PAYS?

It's a new Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plan called StuDental. It covers elementary school children from kindergarten to the highest grade—sixth or eighth. You, the parent, pay $27 for each child for a whole year... less than 7½¢ a day.

IT'S A GROUP PLAN, THEN, THROUGH THE SCHOOL?

Absolutely. There's no other way we could offer such a low-cost program. That's why it's up to you to want it, to get other parents interested. Unless enough parents in your school get behind it, the children won't get StuDental.

WHAT DENTAL SERVICES WILL IT PROVIDE?

Services such as oral examinations, cleanings and fluoride applications, fillings, stainless-steel crowns, extractions, space maintainers, emergency care, and dental treatment required as a result of accidents.

WHEN DOES THE PLAN START?

Beginning this fall, or as soon as it is accepted by enough parents in any school offering the program.

WHICH SCHOOLS ARE ELIGIBLE?

Public, private and parochial elementary schools in the southernmost 17 counties of New York State.

DO I HAVE TO BE A BLUE CROSS OR BLUE SHIELD SUBSCRIBER NOW?

No. StuDental stands by itself.

CAN I USE MY OWN DENTIST?

Certainly. Any dentist you wish.

Dental benefits are paid for dental care, anywhere in the world. Any time in the year.

CAN I WAIT AND SEE HOW IT GOES AND JOIN NEXT YEAR?

No. Only new students in a participating school can join next year... kindergarten, first grade and transfer students. If your child is in school when the plan is offered, it's then or never.

IS STUDENTAL RENEWABLE EVERY YEAR?

Yes, regardless of the extent of dental care used or required, if your school continues to participate.

HOW DO I GO ABOUT GETTING THIS COVERAGE?

Enrollment literature and application forms will be given out at your school, if it decides to participate. But remember. It will not be possible to offer StuDental in any given school unless enough parents in that school want it. So let us know if you are interested. Fill out the coupon below and mail it to us. There is no obligation, but your expression of interest will enable us to assure your school that you, as a parent, want StuDental for your child.

And remember. The dental care protection your child could get now under StuDental for such a little cost, could avoid or reduce much more expensive work later on.

County Road Supers Hear Gloomy Report

KIAMESHA LAKE, A gloomy outlook for the State Department of Transportation was voiced during the recent conference of county road superintendents at the Concord Hotel here.

The view was expressed by Raymond Schuler, a former Kingston resident, who is transportation superintendent of the state.

Schuler said the gloomy outlook was predicated on the possibility that the highway and transportation bond issue may not be approved at the November election.

Schuler also told the county superintendents to cut services this coming winter on the state's snow and ice contract and added that the state will not pay the counties for these services.

Most all county superintendents, it was noted, expressed difficulty in maintaining their highway system with a shortage of anticipated 1971 revenues.

Acting Ulster County Highway Superintendent George Fichtner estimated the county's revenue at $300,000.

Mrs. Fichtner also attended the conference.

A family spokesman said the actress succumbed at her home in the Hollywood Hills after a brief illness.

Miss Byington appeared in more than 75 motion pictures and 30 plays but was best remembered for her role as Lily Ruskin in "December Bride," which spent most of its five year run from 1954 to 1959 in the top ten shows.

She joined Columbia Broadcasting system radio in 1952 to star in the title role of "December Bride" and joined the television series when it began in 1954.

For the television role she won an Emmy nomination 1958. She later played a supporting role in the "Laramie" western series in 1961.

The bouncy, gray-haired actress once said in an interview: "They said, a woman's place is in the home. I say an with the Elitch Garden Stock actress' place is in a good Company in Denver. She later series."

Burglary Charge Against Youth

TOWN OF ULSTER — Accused of entering a private garage on Ruby Road in this township early today, Guy Alderdrice, 19, of West Rutland, Vt., was arrested on a charge of burglary third degree by State Police from the Hurley barracks.

Alderdrice was arraigned before Hurley Town Justice Chester H. DuMont, who committed the youth to the county jail pending a hearing.

Woman's Sentence Suspended, 'Too Stoned' in Heist

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — A federal judge gave a suspended sentence Wednesday to a woman who made a tearful explanation of how she was "too stoned" to remember the bank robbery for which she pleaded guilty.

U.S. District Judge James T. Foley put Mrs. Roberta Charlesworth, 30, Newark, N.J., on three years' probation, on condition she keep seeing a psychiatrist to cure her drug habit.

"I was going to send you to prison, no question about it," Foley said. "But after listening to you, I'm convinced that you were what they call 'stoned'."

The slender, red-haired woman, clad in a mid-dress, quietly told how she became involved in the $40,000 robbery of a Troy bank Sept. 18, 1970.

The divorcee said she met ex-convict Albert Trowbridge at a New Year's party in New York City, and was later brought in to the robbery plot after going to a Troy motel with Trowbridge, and another man and woman.

Although taking barbituates, she said, she objected to the robbery plot.

"He (Trowbridge) was very arrogant and he said 'you're coming with me'... I couldn't even walk. He had to carry me."

After being arrested in the getaway car, she said, "I knew something wrong had happened. But when the FBI arrested me and showed me the guns, I couldn't believe my eyes."

Mrs. Charlesworth also told how she had kicked a heroin habit, but had to get off pills in the Rensselaer County Jail after the arrest. "Barbituates are worse," she said. "Heroin is physical agony. The barbituate habit is mental and physical, and you go completely out of your skull."

"I was hallucinating. They never got me a doctor."

After hearing the probation sentence, the woman impulsively reached out to shake hands with the court clerk.

"Oh, Your Honor, thank you," she said. "I'll do my best. You've been very fair with me."

She then walked sobbing from the court room, with her mother's arm about her waist.

The other three are already serving time for the robbery.

For This Century

Zero Population Growth Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The largest since record-keeping began in 1850.

The even more remarkable fact about this unprecedented decrease, the report said, "is that it coincided with one of the largest recorded 10-year increases among young adults in the principal childbearing-age range."

The 15-34 age group increased by 29 per cent, and the number of persons aged 20 through 24 grew by 52 per cent.

Researchers said replacement of the "baby boom" of the 1950s and 1960s by a "baby bust" will have a major impact for decades in social, political and economic terms.

It will "probably take several decades more for the current fertility trend, if continued, to bring stability or decline of the total population," the study says.

"There are so many more young adults than older people that, despite the unprecedented recent decline in childbearing, births still outnumber deaths nearly 2 to 1."

But the study says new factors have entered the scene — "the pill" and "a dramatic change in the attitudes . . . toward both conventional marriage and large families."

There was a dramatic increase in the number of unmarried adults and a slight rise in the average age at marriage.

The statistics show "the national psychology may be changing, perhaps in response to public education campaigns stressing the dangers inherent in unrestricted population growth," the report said.

The study was financed by the Ford Foundation, the Morris and Gwendolyn Cafritz Foundation and the Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer Foundation.

The only other decreases in children under 5 came in the 1920s, down 1 per cent, and the 1930s, down 7.9 per cent.

DAUGHTER BACK — Terry Weller and his wife, Pat, kiss their 6-month-old daughter, Denise, at police station in Harlow, Essex, England. Detectives recovered the girl in a raid on a house in Hull, 150 miles north of Harlow, where she was taken from her carriage outside a drugstore while her mother was shopping inside. Police detained a young woman inside the house. Her return put to an end one of the biggest police hunts for a kidnaper in British history. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

State Hibernians Going to Shrine

AURIESVILLE of Hibernians, will be the principal concelebrant of the mass. John F. Kennedy Irish Pipe Band of Albany, the Kathleen Division in Barnard Dancers of Albany, the Moira Jones dance team of Troy and the Gallic step-dancers of Syracuse and Oswego will participate in the program.

Religious exercises consisting of a Blessed Sacrament procession and benediction will terminate the pilgrimage program at 3:00 p.m.

The Tom Dooley Chorale of the Onondaga Division in Syracuse will provide the liturgical chants of the mass and will present a round of Irish folk tunes later in the day.

According to the pilgrimage chairman, Thomas Leach of Albany, a luncheon intermission will be followed by a program of piping and dancing redolent of a traditional Irish Feis.

Benefit Set In Red Hook

RED HOOK a country-western jamboree here Oct. 10.

William Coventry is a patient at Albany Medical Center, where he is undergoing 24 hours dialysis a week in preparation for receiving his father's kidney in a few weeks. The father is Walter Coventry of 45 E. Market Street, Red Hook.

Vails Gate Fire Matches On Sept. 11-12

VAILS GATE The New Windsor Cantonment, the final winter encampment of General Washington's Continental Army, 1782-83, will be the site of the Brigade of the American Revolution's annual Invitational Firelock Matches, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 11 and 12. The host regiments for this year's event will be the Morgan's Riflemen and the 1st New York.

During the two-day event, regimental members of the brigade, dressed in uniforms of the period, will be competing for individual and team prizes. The muskets, rifles and pistols that will be used are identical to those carried by the American patriot during his struggle for independence.

Saturday's event will start at 9 a.m. with the "Seneca Run," an obstacle course marksmanship contest, where speed, skill and stamina are required. Sunday's events will feature various team events.

A drum and fife competition will also be held.

The New Windsor Cantonment is open daily to the public from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. (except Monday and Tuesday).

Picnic areas and a refreshment stand are on the grounds.

JAMES H. HANABURGH

Another Rhinebeck Candidate

RHINEBECK A second name has been entered as a candidate for Town Justice in the Rhinebeck Republican Party caucus Sept. 9.

James Howard Hanaburgh said he will seek the office currently held by appointee Herman Tietjen, who has already announced he will seek to retain the judgeship.

Hanaburgh summarized his position as "law and order, justice for all and only that punishment fitting the crime or offense."

He is a life-long resident of Rhinebeck and a member of an original family of settlers, having spent 28 months overseas with the military police during World War II.

Hanaburgh has been employed in security work at IBM, Poughkeepsie for 19 years, the past seven years in management.

He stated that he has keen interest in town government and would be primarily concerned with representing the people if elected to the post.

Hanaburgh has four children including a son in the armed forces, a daughter at Dutchess Community College and two younger children in grade school. The family has also cared for a number of foster children. He has served as a First Vice Commander of the American Legion in Rhinebeck.

After 25 years,
phosphate detergents
can be replaced...

by something better.

Some current phosphate detergents.

Since 1946, phosphate detergents have been contributing to algae pollution. And today, because of this, our fish are dying, our water is stagnating, and our lakes are turning into swamps.

Now, instead of these water polluting detergents, there's something better you can use. Arm & Hammer's new Laundry Detergent.

It contains no phosphates. That in itself is a big improvement over the phosphate formulas. In addition, it contains no NTA, no enzymes, and is biodegradable.

But eliminating pollutants isn't enough. A detergent has to clean. And the better it cleans, the better it is.

Arm & Hammer cleans. So well, in fact, that when tested by hundreds of pollution-concerned families like your own, it was preferred by the majority to their own favorite brands.

That's why Arm & Hammer can guarantee you as clean a wash as you can get, even on the most heavily soiled clothes. Or your money back.

After 25 years of polluting our waters, phosphate detergents have been replaced. By something better. Arm & Hammer Laundry Detergent.

MALE SHEPHERD — Johnny (shown in photo) isn't as cross as he looks. The Shepherd is at the Ulster County S.P.C.A. Shelter ready for adoption by some area resident. A society spokesman said Johnny, black and tan — would probably make a good watch dog for some family. He is three years old, and may be had without charge, if some one needing a pet calls at the society's shelter on Brabant Road in the Town of Ulster. Johnny appears to be waiting to shake hands with whoever adopts him. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Town of Ulster Democrats 'Will Try a New Approach'

TOWN OF ULSTER, outstanding that he or she would appeal to voters of either party. "Will try a new approach" in would you be willing to seek the Nov. 2 elections, according to Robert G. Hayes, chairman. They plan to concentrate all their efforts on electing "one" person? Hayes said that "the best representative to the town board. In a letter to party members Hayes said, "Surely among the rolled Democrats in this town we have one person who is so of either party."

"The present composition of voters in this township precludes this even as a possibility."

Hayes is joined in his sentiment by William Mullany, Democratic committeeman, who said that "there is an inherent danger in having one party in person to the town board might have broad appeal in that it would at least give some Democratic representation instead of none."

The Democratic caucus will be held Thursday, Sept. 9, at 7 p.m. in the Lake Katrine School.

Sting Fatal

WARREN, Ohio (UPI)—A 53-year-old man was stung by a swarm of bees Tuesday and died of shock a few minutes later.

Albert Lepro, Warren, was strung around the head and chest in a field behind his home.

Acting United Way Head In Familiar Post

Serving as interim executive director of the United Way of Ulster County for the current fund campaign is one of a small group of individuals largely responsible for establishing the organization 16 years ago.

JOHN R. WARREN

John R. Warren, who served as executive director of the then Kingston Area Community Chest from 1955 to 1960, has been engaged by the United Way Board of Directors to serve in that capacity for the next four months. The post has been vacant since the resignation July 1 of Richard Vendettoli.

Organized in 1954, the Kingston Area Community Chest lost its first Executive Director, J. Verner Anderson, through death midway in its first campaign. Only $57,000 was raised that year.

It was into this precarious situation that Warren stepped, resigning as a reporter with The Daily Freeman to accept a full time appointment as executive director of the Chest. He remained for the next five years, while campaign returns nearly tripled and much of the ground work was laid for attracting additional agencies (the Chest then had only 10), for expanding geographic coverage and establishing community planning.

In its third campaign the Chest achieved its goal for the first time under the campaign chairmanship of Paul F. Steinkuller. N. Jansen Fowler was president of the Chest Board of Directors at the time. For the next three years the Chest was able to pay its member Agencies 100 per cent of its pre-campaign budgeted amounts.

In February of 1960 Warren resigned his position with the Community Chest and founded his own public relations firm, UCCC Shifts Justice Course To Kingston

STONE RIDGE

The course, Elements of Public Administration (CRJ 102), will meet Monday from 7 to 9:40 p.m. at Kingston High School starting Sept. 13.

Covered in the course are principles of organization and management and an introduction to the concepts of organizational behavior.

The course is appropriate for individuals already employed in the fields of correctional administration and criminal justice and is a required course in both the Police Science and Correction Administration degree programs offered by UCCC.

Ex-Paltz Staffer Is ACMHA Director

POUGHKEEPSIE — John Jacobsen, executive director of the Associated Colleges of the Mid-Hudson Area, has announced the appointment of Philip J. Magnarella as director of a $48,000 Special Opportunities Grant.

The purpose of the grant is to develop means to assist the colleges in the Association and the Mid-Hudson region in meeting the needs of regional residents, with impact for the disadvantaged residents of the Poughkeepsie area.

An additional requirement will consist of a survey of the present or potential employment opportunities, and to present an architectural solution for post-secondary facilities in the downtown area.

The award to the Associated Colleges, the only one of its kind in New York State, was granted under the Higher Education Facilities Planning Group program, as administered by the State Education Department.

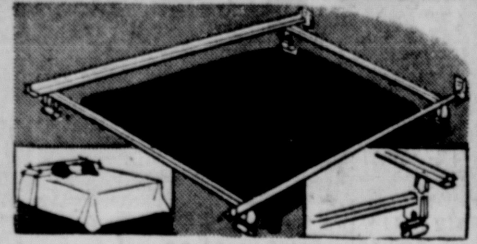

According to Magnarella, the Associated Colleges "will conduct a comprehensive survey of existing college, agency and industrial education programs available to the community, as well as a survey of programs desired by the residents, and incorporate them into preliminary plans for facilities to meet their needs. We will examine the numerous activities dealing with the educationally and economically disadvantaged to learn of additional programs and facilities necessary to accomplish the stated objectives of the grant effectively and efficiently. One of my first requirements will be to form an advisory committee composed of representatives from the member colleges, agencies and interested members of the community. I would hope that anyone interested in serving in an advisory capacity will contact me through the Associated Colleges."

A native of Dutchess County and a graduate of Poughkeepsie schools, Magnarella came to the Associated Colleges after spending the past five years at Dutchess Community College. Most recently, he was the Assistant Dean of Continuing Education and the Director of the Summer Session. Prior to joining Dutchess, he served on the counseling staff at the State University College at New Paltz. In 1964, he was a recipient of a NDEA academic year educational grant and received a Masters Degree from the University of Buffalo.

Active in civic affairs, including serving as a member of the Wappingers Central School District Board of Education, Magnarella and his wife, the former Marguerite Balogh and their three children reside at 6 North Jackson Road, Poughkeepsie.

Barge Turned Houseboat

Modern Ark Anchored in Esopus

BY WADE BURKHART

SAUGERTIES has gained a new residence, but not by any conventional means. The new residence is a 100-foot barge, converted to a houseboat, and it was towed by tugboat up the Hudson from Staten Island Friday.

It is owned by Arthur Pearce and Ronald Keith. They left New York City because they couldn't stand it any more. Before moving to Saugerties they looked "all over the eastern seaboard," according to Miss Keith, and found nothing until they came to Saugerties. At Saugerties, through realtor Ed Reynolds, they found Cantine's Island, in the Esopus, complete with barge slip where the Cantine Company used to unload materials for their plant. Cantine's Island was perfect, and they bought it. They now own nine and one-half acres in the middle of Saugerties.

The houseboat is 40 feet wide, and three and one-half stories high, but only draws three feet of water.

The craft bears some resemblance to Noah's Ark. There is a Roll, the out-sized Briard; Neptune, Zia and Batman the cats; now has a kitchen (that's a tor; and Valentino "Tweety" (or head), five bedrooms, a well stocked library, a work room, a central fireplace, hot-water baseboard heating, and numerous other closets, storage spaces, or rooms in the building stage. There is television and a TV room. There are picture windows in the living room amidships, and a greenhouse being built on the top deck. Most of the work on the boat has been done by Pearce, with an assist from a carpenter friend. The barge was purchased for $500. A lot more has been spent to make it the craft it now is.

What was once a Pennsylvania Railroad freight barge now has a kitchen (that's a galley to old salts), bathroom and Pearce commented on the help they had getting the boat moored in the slip. He said quite a crowd of boats, with lots of flashlights, indicated the channel to them and guided them in. Tugboats do not get up the Esopus much, and from all reports the captain had a pretty tough time.

People also lined up their cars along the slip and turned on their headlights so the lines could be tied and the boat safely moored.

Pearce said he has worked all over the U.S. on construction jobs, and he considered Saugerties to be the "nicest place in the whole United States." He said he hadn't met an unfriendly person yet, and the Saugerties police were the nation's friendliest. Miss Keith said it was quite a change from New York City.

Miss Keith said her brother and his wife should be returning from Australia shortly, and may move in on the houseboat. Space will not be a problem. She said the craft has slept 150 at one time.

Harassed by marine authorities, and fed up with the paranoia of life in New York City, they left to find a place they could live in peace. In Saugerties, they think they have found it.

"Any further pressure exerted by wages and prices trying to make up for lost ground would result in an actual and expected higher rate of price increase," Scott continued.

"In view of the lags between the initiation of new economic policies and their effect on the economy, the administration may be moved to adopt more expansionary fiscal policies."

"The 1972 elections may dictate this course of action. Such a change in government's policy could easily send interest rates soaring again," he concluded.

Scott said that "evidence from the money and capital markets seems to point to a resumption of the upward course in interest rates."

Invested funds from financial intermediaries, such as savings banks, which accumulate funds and invest them for productive purposes.

"The new economic policy gives us a breather in which to ponder these developments and prepare ourselves for the more challenging economic future that lies ahead," Scott continued.

Turning to unemployment and inflation, Scott said that the wage and price freeze "may have the result of reversing inflationary expectations."

"But it is doubtful whether the expansionary measures proposed, such as the tax cuts and investment tax credit, will have a net positive impact on the unemployment rate during the balance of 1971, particularly since they will be accompanied by a reduction in government expenditure . . ."

The savings banks' spokesman said that he expects the thrift institutions will be reducing their investments in the corporate market "as a result of a pickup in the effective demand for mortgage loans and reduced deposit flows."

Rondout Savings Hears Address

KINGSTON

President Nixon's new economic policy will give the nation a much needed economic "breather," according to Ira O. Scott Jr., executive vice president of the Savings Banks Association of New York State.

In a recent address before the trustees of the Rondout Savings Bank, Scott added that "indirectly, the administration in a bold and long overdue move, probably averted or at least postponed . . . the chance of disintermediation."

Economists define "disintermediation" as the withdrawal of invested funds from financial intermediaries, such as savings banks, which accumulate funds and invest them for productive purposes.

"The new economic policy gives us a breather in which to ponder these developments and prepare ourselves for the more challenging economic future that lies ahead," Scott continued.

Henry Hudson moored the "Half Moon" off Saugerties in 1609. And found "slate" ashore.

Since 1871, we've helped build houses with it. Some now for sale. We can help there, too.

With slate, bluestone, shale, fieldstone, and all kinds of other local materials, the building has gone on. And goes on. And buyers find just the house. Or office. And remodel. Modernize. Improve. Or convert. With help from Saugerties Savings. Financial help.

It's one of our chief ways of sharing in the community's growth and progress.

First mortgage? You can choose from a full range of Conventional, FHA and G.I. loans (plus group mortgage homeowner life insurance). And, for less ambitious projects, ask about our Home Improvement loans.

There's more to growth than loans, of course. There's savings. The wisest thing you can do with your money. Especially at Saugerties Savings!

Miss Barbara Laford Weds Stephan E. Whithall

Miss Barbara I. Laford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Laford of 37 Warren Street, Kingston, exchanged nuptial vows with Stephan E. Whithall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whithall of Ulster Park, on Saturday, Aug. 21 at St. Joseph's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Alfred Pizzuto officiated at the double ring ceremony. Harold Houghtaling, organist, accompanied Mrs. Charles Singler, sister of the bridegroom, who sang traditional wedding selections. Gold altar vases were filled with peach, white, and green gladioli and chrysanthemums. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of silk organza styled with a fitted empire bodice and bishop sleeves trimmed with Venice lace. Vertical bands of Venice lace accented the front of the gown with tiny pink flowers trimming the center band. Her mantilla was broadened with matching trim and she carried a stylized cascade of miniature white carnations, stephanotis, pink roses and ivy.

Nancy Laford, sister of the bride, 37 Warren Street, Kingston, was maid of honor in an apricot gown of silk satepeau fashioned in the empire line with ruffles at the neckline, waist and wrists. A stylized daisy headpiece held her four-tier veil. She carried a colonial nosegay of peach and white carnations with peach and green streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Christine Withall, sister of the bridegroom, Ulster Park; and Miss Carol Studer, cousin of the bride, Long Island. Their mint green gowns and headpieces were similar in styling to that worn by the maid of honor. They carried colonial nosegays of peach and green carnations with peach and green streamers.

Robert Withall, brother of the bridegroom, Ulster Park, was best man. Ushers were Dr. Charles Singler, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Canfield, Ohio; and Larry Laford brother of the bride, 37 Warren Street, Kingston.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the crystal room of Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Cape Cod, Mass., the bride selected a gold knit A-line dress with white accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

The bride, a graduate of John A. Coleman High School, class of 1968, and Ulster County Community College, class of 1970, where she received an AAS degree, is employed as secretary at Savings and Loan Association of Kingston.

Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School and UCCS, is attending Albany State University. He served in the U. S. Army from 1966 to 1969 and is employed by IBM but presently is on educational leave of absence. They will reside at 251 Wall Street, Kingston.

Plan Hospital Dinner

The Homowack Lodge, Spring Glen, will be the site of the sixth annual dinner dance to benefit Ellenville Community Hospital. It was announced by Benjamin Lonstein, president of the voluntary not-for-profit hospital. The gala evening, traditionally held on the Sunday before Thanksgiving, will take place this year on November 21.

The fund raising program is sponsored by the hospital's Board of Directors to provide funds for new and improved hospital equipment and services. Last year's dinner dance proceeds enabled the hospital to install a modern coronary care system.

Louis Resnick will once again serve as chairman of the dinner dance committee. Working with Mr. Resnick are: Irving Esrig; Arthur C. Chipp; Dr. Irving Feinberg; Harry Rieger; William Lemppka; Philip Decker; William Collier; and Dr. Manfred Schroder.

Tickets, at $100 per couple, are expected to be in the mail in early October. Individuals who have not previously attended the event and wish to receive invitations this year may contact any member of the committee or telephone the hospital office.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH J. NERONE of 92 Abruyn Street, Kingston, were guests of honor at a surprise party given by their children in observance of their 35th wedding anniversary. The party was held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Nerone, 95 Abruyn Street, Kingston. Married Sept. 2, 1936, they are the parents of two sons, James and Joseph, and two daughters, Mrs. Dolores Styles and Mrs. Donna Lawrence. They also have eight grandchildren. Mrs. Nerone is a licensed practical nurse employed in the nursery at Kingston Hospital. Her husband has been employed by Huctrol for the past 30 years. Many friends and relatives attended the event. (Freeman photo by Haines).

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the 73-year-old woman who wondered if a doctor could prescribe something to pep up her 91-year-old husband who hadn't touched her in two years. I don't believe it! Not about the man — the woman.

I am a 69-year-old man and I'm as peppy today as I was 40 years ago, and I show no signs of slowing up. I'm married to a 65-year-old woman who would be happy if I never touched her again. I have been a faithful husband for over 40 years, but right now I would like to meet that 73-year-old fireball, and I wouldn't care what she looked like either.

Our neighborhood is full of widows, and not one of them has any zip left. I knew all their husbands and the frustrations they suffered. Please ask your medical experts why women lose their interest in sex so much earlier than men.

STILL INTERESTED AT 69 DEAR STILL: I asked. And it's not true.

DEAR ABBY: Occasionally you put your foot in your mouth, and in replying to the wife who was bugged by her husband's hobby of model railroading you really did it.

Your statement, "Railroads are becoming as extinct as whooping cranes," is not true for actual railroads, and is less true for the scale-model railroad hobby.

T. J. C. DEAR T. J. C.: I made no mention whatsoever of the scale-model railroad hobby. I was referring to passenger trains. In 1929, there were 20,000 daily passenger trains in the United States; today there are fewer than 400, hence my whooping crane comment.

DEAR ABBY: So that gal who's married to a railroad nut thinks she's worse off than the one who's married to a stamp collector? Well, my husband is not only a railroad fan and a stamp collector, he is a football fanatic!

His idea of heaven could be attending a stamp auction on a railroad train, en route to the Army-Navy football game. From now until the Super Bowl, my husband won't even know I'm alive. But I will know he is because every room of our house will be littered with stamp catalogs, old railroad timetables and football magazines. When he got the September Playboy, he read the Piskin Review before he even looked at the centerfold playmate. Would you say I had a problem?

MARION DEAR MARION: Yup. A triple whammy. Lotsa luck.

DEAR ABBY: PETE IN WESTPORT wrote to say he always sleeps in the altogether, but he keeps a pair of pajama tops under his pillow in case of fire. Then he added, "—and my wife sleeps the same way, only SHE keeps the BOTTOMS under HER pillow."

Tell Pete in case of fire he would be much better off with the bottoms, and his wife with the tops.

WHEAT PRODUCTS: Wheat products are a feature item. It's sandwich time, says Louise K. Breitung, Extension Home Economist.

Try tuna on a bun half, topped with a pineapple ring, sprinkled with grated cheddar cheese, and broiled to melt the cheese. Serve with sliced tomato, lettuce, pickle and plum.

Try peanut butter with bacon crumbles, or combine with creamy marshmallow fluff for sandwich spread. Serve with halved fresh pear—the center filled with cranberry sauce, accompanied by carrot and celery sticks.

PEARS: Pears are a popular fruit... great for in-between meal snacks and treats.

Did you know that pears are packed and shipped green? It is characteristic that pears develop a finer flavor and smoother texture when ripened off the tree. Pears which are hard when you find them in the food store will ripen if kept at room temperature.

The color of the pear depends on the variety. For Bartlett summer pears, look for a pale to rich yellow color. Anjou or Comice should be light green to yellowish green; the Bosc pear, with its long tapering neck, ripens to a rich, golden cinnamon brown. These pears are the late maturing varieties that arrive at our markets in the late summer and fall months.

CELERY: One of the pluses going for local celery is its freshness. Just 48-60 hours after it is harvested from the muck soils of Orange County, celery can be on sale in Upstate New York markets. The short time from field to store insures you of crisp, colorful, flavorful celery. The rich green color of fresh celery often pales with age. The freshness of locally grown celery increases its home storage life in the refrigerator, too.

About 85 per cent of the celery produced in our country is the Pascal type. Pascal celery can be dark to light green in color, with little stringiness, and has its own distinctive flavor.

CORN: Sweet corn-on-the-cob is "in"! Buy only what you can use in a day or two. Sweet corn is one vegetable that doesn't keep well, even under refrigeration. The longer you keep corn, the more starchy it becomes. Corn loses its sweetness and tenderness soon after you buy or pick it, especially at warm temperatures.

Fresh corn has very bright green husks. The dark brown silks at the tip should look moist rather than dry.

Knowing how to cook the sweet corn can also be a big help in getting the best quality. After you remove the husks and silks and rinse the corn in cold water, drop the ears into boiling salted water. Cook the corn only 5 to 6 minutes after the water returns to a boil then remove the corn from the water and serve it immediately.

PLUMS: A rainbow of colored plums are available: Juicy, bright red, crimson or yellow Japanese plums... or blue and purple European varieties. Select plums that are well formed, clean, well colored for the variety, and free of decay or broken skins.

New Ideas for Easy Entertaining at Home

The next time you entertain guests or want a special treat for your family, consider yourself—the cook—and allow some cool time off by preparing easy dishes. The American Dairy Association has offered these ideas to our readers through one of their leading nutritionists, Betsy Sheehan, a frequent visitor to the Hudson Valley area.

Ham and Cheese Roll-Ups

Swiss Cheese
Sliced cooked ham (approx. 1/4-inch thick)
Crushed pineapple, drained
OR sauerkraut, drained

Cut cheese into finger-shaped pieces. On sliced ham, place a piece of cheese. Top with 1-2 tablespoons crushed pineapple OR sauerkraut. Roll, then fasten with wooden picks. Brush with butter. Broil or grill 2-3 minutes on each side OR roll in foil, sealing ends, then bake, 10-15 minutes at 350 degrees or heat on grill 5-6 minutes, turning once.

Stuffed Eggs

4 hard-cooked eggs
3 tablespoons dairy sour cream
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery seed
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish

Cut eggs in half lengthwise. In a bowl mash yolks with sour cream, mustard, salt and celery seed until well blended. Add pickle relish. Refill whites. Chill.

Strawberry Sour Cream Pie

Preheated 350 degree oven
Pie plate, 9-inch

CRUST:
1 1/2 cups vanilla wafer crumbs (about thirty 1 1/4-inch wafers)
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter, melted

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 1/2 cups water
1 package (3 oz.) strawberry-flavor gelatin
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 1/2 cups sliced fresh strawberries
Whipped cream
Strawberry halves (optional)

To prepare Crust: In a small bowl mix together crumbs and sugar; stir in butter. Press mixture firmly and evenly against bottom and sides of pie plate, building up slightly around rim. Bake 5 minutes. Cool on wire rack. To prepare Filling: In a saucepan place sugar and peel. Stir in 1 cup water, heat to boiling. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Add remaining 1/2 cup water. Chill until partially set; whip until fluffy and light in color. In a chilled bowl, with chilled beaters whip sour cream until doubled in volume (about 5 minutes with electric mixer at highest speed). Fold into whipped gelatin. Fold in sliced strawberries. Turn into crust. Chill until set. When ready to serve, garnish with whipped cream and strawberry halves, if desired.

Cheddar Macaroni Salad

1 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup sweet pickle relish
3 tablespoons vinegar
3 tablespoons chopped green onion
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 cups (8 oz.) cubed Cheddar cheese

Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain. In large bowl toss macaroni with sour cream, pickle relish, vinegar, onion and mustard. Fold in green pepper and cheese. Cover and chill.

Variation: Substitute 1 cup plain yogurt for sour cream. Omit vinegar.

Spinach Oasis

6-8 servings

1 package (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach OR 1 cup cooked fresh chopped spinach
2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup water
2 chicken bouillon cubes
1/2 cup liquid from spinach
1 1/2 cups cottage cheese
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons minced green onion

Cook spinach according to package directions; drain, reserving liquid. If necessary, add water to measure 1/2 cup; set aside. In a saucepan soften gelatin in water; add bouillon cubes. Heat over low heat, stirring occasionally, until gelatin and bouillon are dissolved. Add reserved liquid. In mixer or blender beat cottage cheese until fairly smooth. Add spinach and lemon juice; beat until well blended. Add sour cream and dissolved gelatin. Fold in celery, green pepper and onion. Turn into mold, chill until firm.

Sour Cream's the Flavor Secret

Some foods have international appeal. Meat balls are a good example. You find them on menus everywhere—Sweden, Italy, Greece, Denmark and many other lands. So if you'd like to win compliments in your own hometown, try a fresh new recipe called Meat Balls and Bows. The flavor secret in this recipe is dairy sour cream, which gives the meat balls tangy, tantalizing flavor and extra moistness. Condensed tomato soup, bread crumbs, egg, salt and parsley flakes complete the list of ingredients.

For a flavor bonus, brown the meat balls in butter. Then add the crowning touch, a satin-smooth, well-seasoned sauce made with sour cream, garlic salt and sauteed onion plus some of the drippings from the skillet. Serve the meat balls and sauce atop hot buttered noodles, the graceful bow-shaped variety Italians call "farfalle." You'll want to accompany this hearty main dish with a salad that's not too filling. Try refreshing Three Citrus Salad which teams orange and grapefruit sections with lime-flavored gelatin. Chopped apple adds a little crunch and there's a surprise ingredient, crumbled Blue cheese. The citrus fruits contribute vitamin C, so important in the colder months, and the cheese adds calcium and protein.

Round out this nourishing meal with another vitamin-packed dairy food, tall, cold glasses of milk. It's a satisfying family dinner, and one that's easy on the food budget.

Three Citrus Salad

1 package (3 oz.) lime flavor gelatin

1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup orange juice
2 oranges, peeled, sectioned and cut-up (about 1/2 cup)
1 grapefruit, peeled, sectioned and cut-up (about 1/2 cup)
1 apple, unpeeled and chopped (about 1 1/2 cups)
1/4 cup crumbled Blue cheese
Salad greens

In a bowl pour boiling water over gelatin; stir until dissolved. Add orange juice. Chill until partially set. Fold in oranges, grapefruit, apple and cheese. Turn into 4-cup salad mold. Chill until firm. Unmold onto greens. Makes 6-8 servings.

Meat Balls And Bows

MEAT BALLS:
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed tomato soup
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes
1 tablespoon butter

SAUCE:
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
Hot buttered bow-shaped noodles

To prepare Meat Balls: In a small bowl fold sour cream into soup. In a large bowl combine 1/4 cup sour cream mixture, beef, crumbs, egg, salt and parsley just until blended. Shape mixture into 24 meat balls about 1 1/2-inches in diameter. In a large skillet melt butter; brown meat balls slowly on all sides. Remove meat balls. Drain excess fat. To prepare Sauce: Add onion to skillet and saute until tender. Reduce heat to low; stir in flour, paprika and garlic salt. Remove from heat; stir in remaining sour cream mixture. Return meat balls to skillet; cover and simmer 15 to 20 minutes. Serve over hot buttered noodles.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE
ONE WIFE'S STRATEGY

Dear Heloise:

It has taken several years to perfect what I am about to tell you, but now that I have discovered these few little tricks, I felt obligated to write so I might help others—and maybe repay you for all the help you and your readers have given me.

We are an average family of four and on a pretty tight budget. The buying of groceries was the hardest to make come out within the limits set by my husband. Here's what I do.

On days when the grocery money is a little scarce, never take your husband with you. The things he throws in the basket you just wouldn't believe.

However, when there are a few extra dollars that can be spent, take him by all means. You will never be blamed for spending too much as he is the one who put the extra things in the basket.

The one thing that makes grocery shopping so difficult these days is that there are so many things, other than groceries that can be obtained there. Today's grocery stores carry tools, camping equipment, clothes and scads of other things. You might be saying to yourself, I am saving time running to another store to pick up a pair of shorts for my daughter or that extension cord for the bedroom.

Believe me, these things cost more at the grocery store than at the local dry goods store. Compare the prices. I think you will be amazed.

If your husband is one of those who insists on going with you every time (like mine used to), after you return home, set aside the items he put in the basket that were not on your list. Itemize them and the cost and also keep with it the list you made. When the end of the month comes and he wants to know where all the grocery money went, just whip out your little record and show him in writing. My husband never says this to me any more.

Well, Heloise, what do you think? The next time you go to the grocery store, notice the baskets of the husband-and-wife shoppers and the ones where only the wife does the shopping.

I personally get a big kick watching the newly married couples shop. Wouldn't you just love to check their baskets five years from now?

I hope I have solved some family squabbles which might have arisen over the grocery budget. Now if I can get my children to clean their room without complaining, I'll have it made!

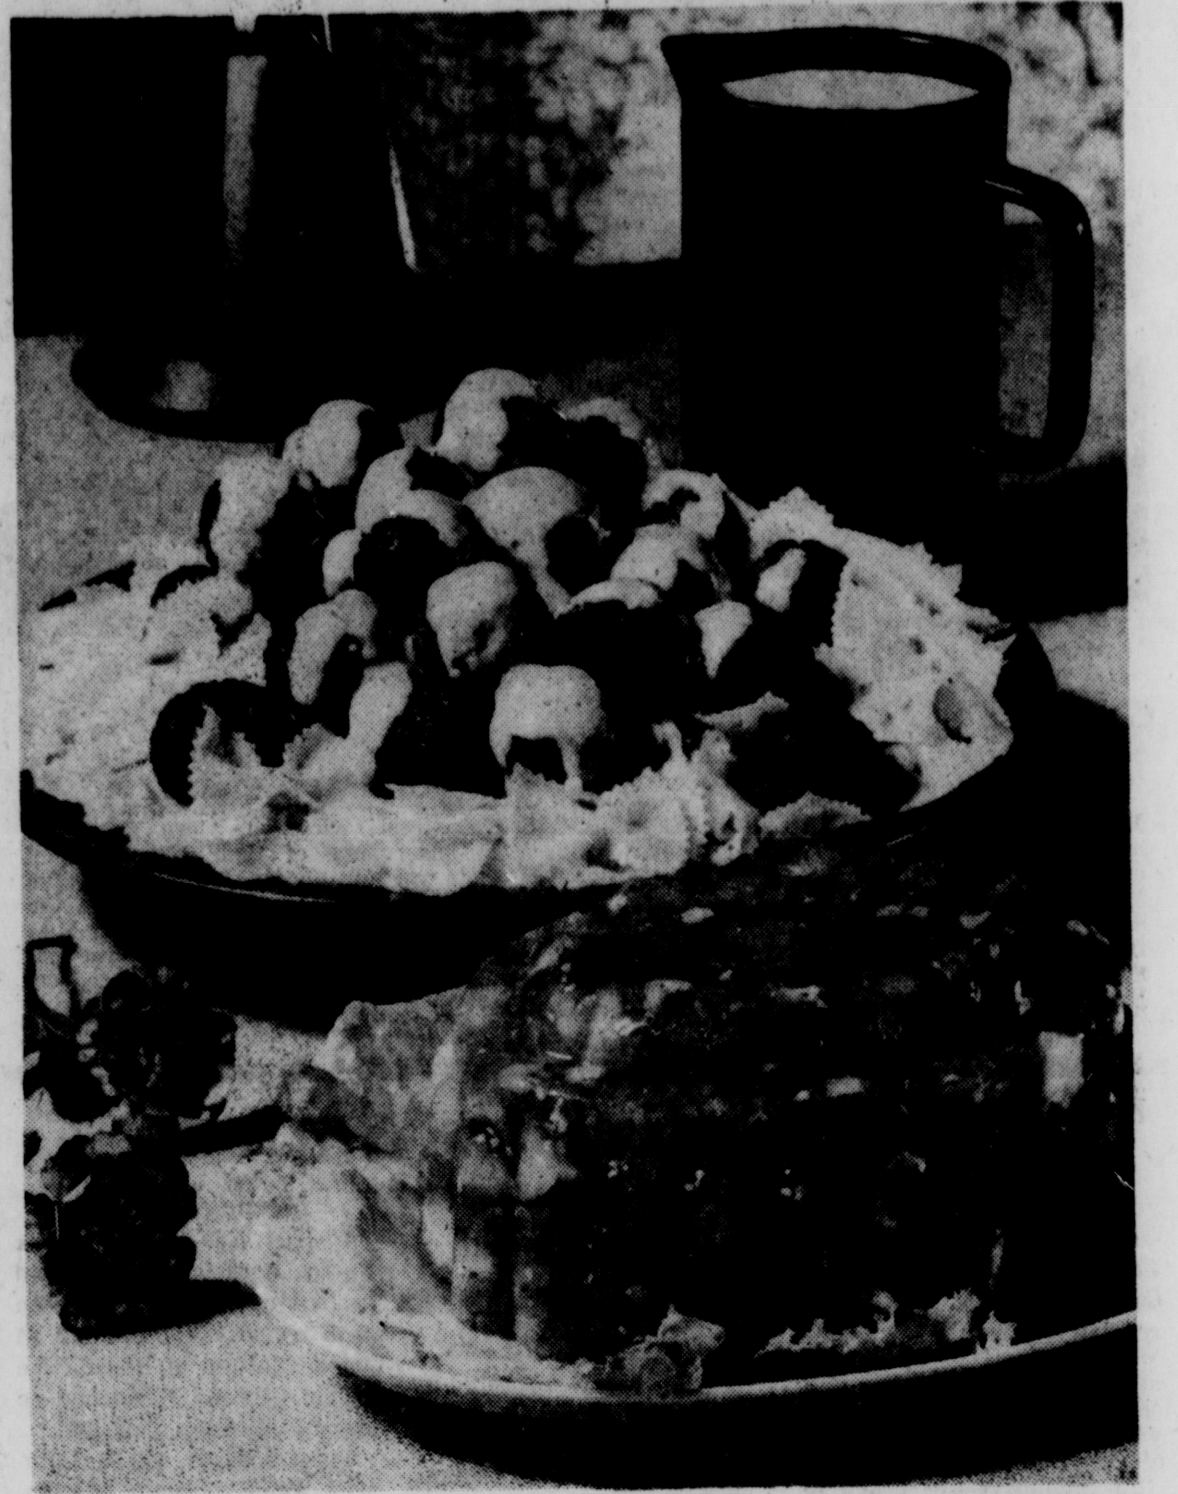

Smart Wife

I think you have gotten right down to the nitty-gritty of overspending at the grocery store.

I'm all for it, gal, and listen very carefully when this month comes to an end and I'm sure you will be able to hear hundreds of "Thank Yous" coming your way.

Also, I want to leave you with what I have said many times over, "Never shop on an empty stomach."

Mrs. Gogg Is 'B' Champion

KINGSTON—It was quite scary," said Mrs. Richard L. Gogg, reflecting on her tenacious 1-up victory over Mrs. Robert Davenport for the Class B women's championship at Wiltwyck Country Club.

Mrs. Gogg led Mrs. Davenport 1-up at the turn. The lead changed hands a couple times and then Mrs. Gogg went 1-up on the 16th hole. They halved the last two holes to preserve Mrs. Gogg's victory and her first club title. It was the kind of first-time win she is not likely to forget.

En route to the finals, Mrs. Gogg eliminated Mrs. James Woodard, 6 and 4; Mrs. Harvey Bostic, 3 and 2, then turned back Mrs. Burton Var Kleeck, 3 and 2 to gain the finals.

Mrs. Davenport, meanwhile, got a first round bye, survived a tough 21-hole match with Mrs. Seymour Werbalowsky to win 1-2 up and defeated Mrs. Gerald Overbagh, 2 and 1, in the semi-finals. In other quarter final matches, Mrs. Van Kleeck won over Mrs. Robert O. Merritt, 2 up; and Mrs. Overbagh topped Mrs. Eugene Abramsky, 4 and 2.

Distel Leads Men
Don Distel defeated Dr. Charles Kovacs, 1 up, in 19 holes to capture First Flight honors for men. Dr. Kovacs eliminated Victor Hake, 1 up in 20 holes and Distel downed Ed Kovacs, 1 up, in two hotly contested semi-final matches. In first round action, Dr. Kovacs won over O.D. Ingals, 4 and 3; Hake checked Randy Siegel, 3 and 2; Ed Kovacs

Froehling, Kodes Register Open Wins

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI)—Big Frank Froehling, a tennis dropout for five years, and wiry Czech Jan Kodes, who isn't supposed to win on grass, registered straight-set victories Tuesday to gain the quarter-finals of the $160,000 U.S. Open championships. The 29-year-old Froehling, who returned to the tennis circuit 15 months ago and now is playing the best game of his life, took advantage of a disputed linesman's call in the opening set and went on to beat Australian Bob Carmichael 7-6, 6-4, 6-4, while Kodes overran Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

Froehling, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Kodes, the two-time French Open champion, who knocked off top-seeded John Newcombe in the opening round here, will meet in the quarter-finals. Both are unseeded and both sport mustaches. The big shocker of the day was turned in by unheralded Laura DuPont of Charlotte, N.C., who rallied from one set down to eliminate seventh-seeded Nancy Richey Gunther of San Angelo, Tex., 6-6, 6-2, 6-4 in a third round match postponed from Monday.

Miss DuPont, a 22-year-old senior at the University of North Carolina, who called it the biggest victory of her career, next meets top-seeded Billie Jean King in the quarter-finals. Rosemary Casals, the No. 2 seed from San Francisco, and fourth-seeded Kerry Melville won as expected to qualify for a showdown in the women's semi-finals. Miss Casals, calling her game "lousy" and saying she was embarrassed at her performance, nevertheless beat Joyce Williams of Scotland, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, and Miss Melville ousted sixth-seeded Judy Dalton of Australia, 6-3, 7-5.

Froehling, who reached the finals of the National Amateur at Forest Hills in 1963 and then quit the game two years later because he felt he couldn't be No. 1, gave his remarkable comeback another big lift Tuesday with his victory over Carmichael. The 6-foot-5 Floridian admitted that he probably got a big break in the opening set. After the first 10 games had gone with service in that opening set, Carmichael won four straight points in the 11th game after being down 40-15 for the first break. But Froehling came right back in the next game, aided by two consecutive double faults by Carmichael to even the set at 6-6 and force a tie breaker.

Froehling was ahead 4-3 in the nine-point tie breaker when a backhand passing shot of his hit near the baseline. The linesman called it good, giving Froehling the set. He didn't lose another service the rest of the way in finishing off the match.

"The linesman called it good and Carmichael gave him a dirty look," Froehling later recalled. "The linesman then said he wasn't sure but the umpire then supported the decision. I thought it was out. I thought it was an error. He was depressed after that and it could have cost him the match. I won't say it was out because it's worked the other way against me where I got a bad call."

Despite his continuing success here, Kodes said he still thinks the grass courts "a joke." But he said his grass game is improving because he has improved his fast volley and he feels it is important to do well on this surface because of the big tournaments that are played on grass.

"I don't think Bob played too well today, and he made several mistakes," Kodes said of Lutz. "But I played well and that's unusual that I didn't lose a single service."

Miss DuPont, who said her previous biggest win came over Miss Dalton when the Australian girl defaulted in the third set, credited improved concentration for her remarkable turnaround against Mrs. Gunther after she lost the first set at love.

"I started concentrating a lot better," she said. I was upset in the first set because the court was bad, I wasn't serving well, and she was crunching my good shots back for winners.

LOW BRIDGE — Jerry Kenney of the Yankees, with hands over his head to guard against the throw, slides into third base ahead of the peg from Red Sox Center Fielder Reggie Smith in the first inning of their game in Boston Tuesday. Waiting for the late throw is Boston's third sacker, Rico Petrocelli. Kenney went from first to third on a hit by Horace Clarke. The Umpire is Marty Springstead. Boston won, 9-3. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Angels' Executive Played With Truth

CHICAGO (AP) — The general manager and vice president of the California Angels has told a panel deciding the Alex Johnson case he knowingly falsified information which denied that a gun had been pulled on Johnson in the team clubhouse. The Chicago Sun-Times said Tuesday.

An article by sports-writer Jerome Holtzman said a secret transcript of the Johnson hearing shows Dick Walsh knowingly falsified the truth of Johnson's charge, that teammate Chico Ruiz pulled a gun on Johnson June 13 when the two players were alone in the Angels' clubhouse.

The article said Walsh made the admission Aug. 29 during the first day of the Johnson grievance which is being heard by a three-man arbitration panel.

Johnson was suspended without pay June 26. The Major League Players Association, on his behalf, is charging that the American League's 1970 batting champ is being wrongfully denied his full salary.

It said the paper learned that the following exchange occurred between Walsh and the panel:

Q—"Isn't it a fact that you announced you conducted investigation of the gun incident and then issued a statement you found no gun?"

A—"Yes."

Q—"But you knew there was such a gun?"

A—"Yes."

Q—"Didn't you realize that by issuing such a statement that you left the public with only two things to believe: 1. That Alex Johnson was a liar or No. 2, that he had delusions—whereas neither was true."

A—"I did it in the best interests of the club."

Walsh, asked to comment on the Sun-Times report, issued this statement:

"There is no evidence to indicating that the Johnson-Ruiz gun incident took place as alleged by Alex Johnson. That has been my position from the first and it remains unchanged."

Asked if the testimony in the Chicago story was inaccurate, Walsh said:

"I do not choose to amplify my statement. This was a closed hearing and I feel it improper to discuss the testimony."

Angels owner Gene Autry said he did not attend the hearing and could not comment on the story's accuracy.

Tidewater Tides Hot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tidewater's Tides are hot and if they stay that way they could end up with a Governor's Cup brimming over with the International League championship.

The Tides battered Rochester 12-1 Tuesday night behind John Matlack's six-hitter to take a 1-0 lead in the five-game Governor's Cup set that will determine the league champion.

The win marked the fourth consecutive playoff victory for the Tides, who took Charleston in three straight in the semifinals.

John Milner had three hits for the winners and scored three more runs to give him a total of 13 in the Tides' four playoff games.

Don Fazio spoiled Matlack's shutout bid in the third when he cracked a solo home run.

The action continues at Rochester tonight with Fred Beene scheduled to start for the Red Wings and Brent Strom going for the Tides.

Gordie Howe Retires at 43

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gordie Howe, one of world's greatest hockey players, apparently has decided to retire at the athletic old age of 43.

Howe, who has scored a record 786 goals in the last quarter-century as a forward for the Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League, won't say definitely that he is quitting.

He told The Associated Press Tuesday, however, that he had made a decision on his future and will make it public at a news conference Thursday.

"Nobody other than my immediate family knows what my decision is and I'm trying to be honest with everybody and not say in advance what it is," said Howe, who was hampered last season by an arthritic left wrist and right elbow.

Disclosure of Howe's imminent retirement as a player shared the spotlight Tuesday with the signing of Phil Esposito, record scoring center, by the Boston Bruins to a four-year contract worth an estimated $400,000.

The 29-year-old Esposito, who scored a record 76 goals and 159 points in the NHL last season, said he would not reveal the terms of the contract other than it called for "a good deal more than a speculative figure of $333,000."

Esposito said he was "very, very happy." He added, "I never need any incentive to play hockey."

Neither did Howe in his prime. He was quoted recently as saying "hockey is no longer fun to play."

Esposito's contract is in conformity with President Nixon's wage freeze, a Bruin spokesman said. "Maybe he didn't get an increase this year," the spokesman commented.

With the NHL training camps scheduled to open this weekend and the first exhibition games slated Sept. 17, there were other developments in the sport Tuesday.

The Pittsburgh Penguins purchased rightwinger Billy Hicke from the California Golden Seals. The Seals also announced they had sold defenseman Doug Roberts to the new Boston Braves franchise in the American Hockey League.

Defensemen Jacques Lapierre and Guy Lapointe signed their contracts to play again for the Montreal Canadiens.

A Tennis War In the Making

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)

"It looks as if they want a war—you'd have to be naive not to notice it," Lamar Hunt, millionaire bankroller of the pro tennis tour, said today of the game's newest in-passe.

"It's a strange war. They want to hurt us apparently. We don't want to hurt anybody. Our hope is to build a strong professional arm to the game."

"We think we can do it to the benefit of tennis, its sponsors and its fans."

The war involves Hunt's World Championship Tennis, Inc., which has 32 leading professionals under contract, and the International Lawn Tennis Federation, which has barred Hunt's pros in all ITF tournaments, starting in 1971.

The ITF tournaments include Wimbledon, the U.S. Open at Forest Hills, the French Open at Roland Garros in Paris, the Italian and Australian Opens, and other long-time, established fixtures.

Jack Kramer, former promoter who now directs the Pepsi Grand Prix series, predicted Tuesday that one-man rule could destroy the game.

"There is no simple solution to our differences, but these differences could be worked out," Hunt, a Texas oil heir who also owns the football Kansas City Chiefs and other sports teams, said.

"For one thing, we have suggested that the 'Big Three' tournaments—Wimbledon, Forest Hills and Roland Garros—be included in the point system for our players. These players would be given reasonable expenses to play and would compete for the prize money."

"But, no, the ITF says these tournaments are sacrosanct. They must be run on principals used in the past. Our feeling is that everything must be susceptible to change if it is to grow."

"But we don't want to hurt Wimbledon or Forest Hills. We want our players to compete in them. In fact, we tried to persuade those who stayed out of the Open this year to come in."

Defending champion Ken Rosewall, Rod Laver, Tony Roche and several other top pros declined to play in the U.S. Open at Forest Hills.

END OF TRAIL — Detroit Red Wings superstar Gordie Howe is expected to announce Thursday that he will retire after this 25th season to take a job in the club's front office. The 43-year-old athlete, shown at a Detroit golf course with his son Mark, has scored a record 786 goals in the last quarter-century as a forward for the Red Wings. However, the National Hockey League star has deferred any formal statement concerning his status until Thursday. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Jets Drop Battle

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

One daring maneuver made Mike Battle an instant hero in New York. A failure to repeat it cost him his job.

Battle became the darling of the New York fans in August, 1969, during a game between the New York Jets and the New York Giants, the first meeting between the two archrivals. The former Southern California All-American took a Giant punt, raced up the left sideline and vaulted over punter Dave Lewis' sprawling figure enroute to a touchdown. It was the only one Battle ever scored.

The Jets made it their business to concentrate on January's draft and the writing was on the wall for Battle. He saw virtually no action during five pre-season games and scarcely was used in practice.

The word came for Battle Tuesday when the Jets placed the three-year veteran on waivers. He was not claimed by any of the other 25 National Football League teams.

"I expected it," said Battle, whose return heroics led him to a half dozen commercials and even a feature part in one of Joe Namath's movies. "I wasn't playing, not even on the special teams and I wasn't being used in practice. It was like I wasn't there."

Battle lost his return job to rookies Vernon Studdard and Chris Farasopoulos and was beaten out of safety jobs by Farasopoulos and Phil Wise, also a rookie.

The Jets also dropped Danny Dyches, Jimmy Williams and John Egold and placed Studdard and rookie Dale Graham on injured waivers. Steve Thompson, who announced his retirement last week, was placed on the reserve list.

More heads rolled as NFL clubs were required to reach the 43-player limit, three more than allowed at the start of the season.

Dallas dropped Steve Goepel.

Hotdogs Lead Jockey to Altar

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (UPI) — Jockey's have to watch their weight but Artie Freyer's appetite is leading him to the altar.

Freyer, a 90-pound jockey at Finger Lakes Race Track, met Terry Rucinsky last May when he polished off four hotdogs in 10 minutes at the concession stand at the track where she was working.

"I wanted to know how he could have such a healthy appetite and stay so trim," said the 5-foot-5, blue-eyed blonde of the jockey, who is less than 5 feet tall.

"I figured somebody who can do that can't be a bad guy," So Artie and Terry got acquainted. Now they're ready for a 650-pound wedding cake — 50 pounds bigger than Tiny Tim's — and a massive celebration at the track Sept. 15.

The couple will be wed in a double ring ceremony at the track's paddock. A local winery is donating champagne for those attending the day's racing, and National Rose Gardens of America Inc., of Newark, N.Y., is providing 5,000 live roses to decorate the paddock.

Four couples, Freyer's fellow jockeys and their wives, will serve as attendants for the wedding. A mobile home manufacturer is providing a trailer for the honeymoon trip.

Sang Froid Is a Horse With Class

MONTICELLO Sang Froid is not the fastest pacer in the world. But he could lay claim to being the cleverest, the sneakiest and the most persistent. The New Zealand import (post # in tonight's Superfecta race at Monticello Raceway), has a mind of his own and one way or another always manages to get what he wants.

"He does things that other horses don't do," explained Harris Nussbaum, who co-trains the 6-year-old with driver Harold Purdy. "For instance, he picks open the lock on his tail gate, opens the door and visits his neighbors. Then maybe he'll steal some other horse's oats, have his fill and walk right back into his own stall."

"He's gotten where he can play around that door pretty good now," Harris continued. "In fact, he made good use of the top half of the swinging door most of the season. There was this Australian mare, Fastback A, stabled next to Sang Froid and he just couldn't stand her. She'd pop her head in his stall all the time to check out what he was doing and this got him so mad that he finally untied the wire that kept the top half open and quietly waited for her to make her next visit. Sure enough, as soon as she stuck her head in—bang—she got the door right in her face! He really got a kick out of that."

Fortunately, for Sang Froid's owner, the pacer shows as much intelligence on the race track as in the barn. In a race at Roosevelt Raceway this past winter, Sang Froid was leading at the head of the stretch, when he suddenly pulled himself to a dead stop. Bill Sawkins, the driver, couldn't figure out what was going on. He started whipping the pacer, but Sang Froid refused to move.

It turned out that Sang Froid had popped a splint early in the race and was bleeding badly. "Had he kept racing," said Nussbaum, "he might have done himself permanent damage. He always seems to know what he's doing."

Sang Froid even knows when it's time to turn in. "When Mac (track announcer Brewer) stops talking at the end of each racing program, that's when he decides to bed down."

"One night, I forgot to shut the light in his stall. He got so angry, he just smashed the bulb into smithereens and then as if nothing had happened, he laid down and went to sleep."

TOP TANDEM — These two Lincoln, Neb., men row their raft into Omaha from Sioux City, Neb., early Monday in time to claim the $500 first prize in the first "Great Missouri River Raft Regatta." Mike Wright, 27, and Arnold Miller (R) bested 235 other raft crews in the 105-mile race down the Missouri. They covered the distance in 15 hours and 3 minutes, well under the estimated time. Fabulous Hoople Is Back in Town

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

HOOPLE MANOR Ahh, the Autumn. Falling leaves, cooling breezes, and the sound of crashing shoulder pads. Yes, dear readers, it's again that time of year when football is the password and, ha-kaff, I am your sage.

It's been a good Summer but I've been anxious to get rolling on my 1971 scholastic and collegiate predictions. All the bugs have been driven out of the machine I used for the first time last year (you remember, the one invented by Dr. Timothy L. Eary) and several new formulas have been inserted into the famed Hoople system.

One sad note to report, I will be without the services of my pudgy friend who had been invaluable in helping me make my final prognostications from week to week. He has moved to the proverbial greener pastures, har-rumph. But alas, the Mod King is still here, so all is not lost.

We are still a week away from the local high school openers. Beginning Sept. 17th and be? Well, my friends, those are but two of the starters to come. A third surprise is in store for the viewers of the Pittsburgh-UCLA contest as the visiting Panthers squeeze by the Uclans, 24-20.

Oh yes, the scores of those first two games will be Oregon 30, defending national champion Nebraska, 28, and Northwest-ern 17, Michigan, 14.

In other top rated engagements LSU will conquer Colorado, 18-7, Kentucky will edge Clemson by at 17-14 count, and Duke will fall before the aerial wizardry of Florida's John Reeves, 22-10.

The national TV audience will get a real treat when Grambling beats Morgan State in Yankee Stadium, 35-21, har-rumph.

Elsewhere it will be Arkansas 27, California 20, the host Ohio State Buckeyes by a 35-7 tally over Iowa; Georgia Tech in a stiff encounter with South Carolina will prevail by a narrow one-point margin, 21-20, and Toledo will stretch its undefeated string to 24 as the Rockets smash East Carolina, 41-12.

By the way, Navy will beat Virginia, 13-12.

Egads, I must go now. My machine is starting to send over the first high school results. I'll have them for you next week, kaff-kaff.

Buz Reutimann Takes Feature

MIDDLETOWN Buzzy Reutimann of Zephyrhills, Fla., came up with his fourth modified feature win at the Limited Sportsmen feature races. The first event was the Saturday, but he earned it the hard way with veteran Carl Van Horn finishing right on his bumper.

Kenny Shoemaker made his first appearance at the track for the 1971 season and did an impressive job as he won his heat race and took fourth in the feature.

Jerry Wilson, in what appeared to be an easy ride, chalked up wins number eight and nine by capturing both of the Limited Sportsmen feature races. The first event was the hold over from the week before, while the second was the regularly scheduled show.

In the Semi-Late Model racing, it was Ralph Mariano who took the first twenty lapper while Brian DuBois won his second feature. Russ Myers tightened up the point race in the Sedan division with two second place finishes in each of the features.

$4700 Loan Saves SU's Sport Sked

NEW PALTZ A $4,700 loan for the Faculty-Student Association at New Paltz State has enabled the college's athletic department to get its 1971-72 program underway.

The financial assistance, granted by the association's executive committee, is designed to carry the State U. program through September. Physical Education Department Chairman and Athletic Director Dr. Richard Clegg says that another loan would be requested at a later date which, if approved, would take care of monetary matters until mid-October.

By that time the Student Government of the college is expected to have held its annual elections. Until new students of officials are chosen the budget from which the athletic department gets its money can not be touched.

Meanwhile, the New Paltz soccer team opened its training camp Tuesday at the Ashokan retreat with physical examinations. First drills were set for today.

In another development, Dr. Clegg said formal announcement of the appointment of his assistant director will be made in several weeks.

When Dr. Clegg was selected as Athletic Director last month, he indicated that an assistant would have to be picked to help relieve him of a good deal of the work that would pile up in his dual capacity.

The AD's post was vacant for several months since the unexpected departure of Al Negretti, who served only one year before accepting a post in the University of Wisconsin complex.

There was a welter of rumors about Negretti's successor before Dr. Clegg was named to the dual capacity of chairman of the physical education department and athletic director.

There are now strong reports that Dr. Clegg's assistant will come from within the current New Paltz athletic staff.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to be more sociable and see friends you like; a mutually excellent time will result. A good pal helps you achieve a longtime goal. Show you have much ability.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can make an excellent impression on bigwigs today, as well as please the public in general. Buy the gadgets that make your work more efficient, give you more profit in the future.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have some interesting ways to gain favor of newcomers and bigwigs now who understand your methods. Contact those out of town whose aid you need, especially where expansion is concerned.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can keep promises made to others much better if you use more modern methods. Show those you admire that you are more than willing to help them in some way. Avoid one who gossips too much and could waste your time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Good day to be with allies who have the same ideas as your own. You can then accomplish a good deal while having a good time together. Making sure to go over reports is wise. Don't take any risks with possible errors.

Listen to ideas of associates for more efficient mutual operation. You can achieve reconciliations with others now that were impossible before. Take a firm stand when you are right.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can complete those tasks efficiently if you are conscientious and apply yourself early. Make a good impression on others. Morning is best time to shop for new items for your wardrobe.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take care of pressing duties early, you can then make this a most happy day and p.m., especially with good friends. Find the right way to add to present income. Stay ethical and all is fine.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can improve conditions at home easily now and have more harmonious relations there. Plan a more interesting and affluent future with kin. Make the collections that are important to your welfare.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Good day to be with allies who have the same ideas as your own. You can then accomplish a good deal while having a good time together. Making sure to go over reports is wise. Don't take any risks with possible errors.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those individuals who will deliberate well and make plans before getting into anything at all, which is excellent, provided you teach while young to make decisions. Otherwise your progeny could very well miss the bus for wanting to study it from all angles first, instead of boarding it on time. Send to right schools and give sensible religious training, right diet, a little discipline early is good, too.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

MISTAKE: (Q) By mistake I touched a part of this girl's body that I shouldn't have. I tried to tell her I was sorry but she wouldn't listen. She picked up a piece of plastic pipe and hit me over the head.

It didn't hurt. I backed up and smiled. She hit me again. I couldn't take any more so I picked up a towel and popped her a good one on the leg. She ran in the house.

After that when I saw her I said "Hello" but she just kept on walking. Now I don't say anything. How can I get her to talk to me again? — Sorry in Florida.

(A) You two shouldn't have hit each other. That's acting like children.

Call her on the telephone and tell her as soon as she answers that you are sorry about what happened, that it was an accident, and that you want to apologize. If she accepts and you resume your friendship, be very careful about your hands in the future.

PHONE FUSS: (Q) I get about six phone calls a day. This is not as many as I got before my parents started bugging me. When they did, I asked my friends to call only once a day.

My mom and dad still bug me. They say if there was an emergency call it couldn't get through. I tell them if they would get me a phone of my own they wouldn't have to worry about that. My best friend has a phone in her room.

I hate to tell my friends I have to get off the phone, particularly if it's a boy and we are in the middle of a good conversation. — No Phone in California.

(A) Unless your parents can afford a phone for you, and unless they are willing for you to have one, your solution is to keep your calls short and spaced well between.

Waves of U. S. Copters Aid Buildup

Biggest Saigon Operation Since Laotian Move

SAIGON (UPI)—Wave after wave of American helicopters today carried 2,000 South Vietnamese troops into jungles near the abandoned U.S. Marine base at Khe Sanh to expand the biggest Saigon government operation since last spring's Laotian invasion. The South Vietnamese forces reopened Fire Base Hope five miles southeast of Khe Sanh and the Gates outpost five miles northeast of the abandoned fortress.

Ranger units opened three landing zones northeast of Khe Sanh. It was the third day of a new drive involving 22,000 South Vietnamese troops with U.S. support. The operation is known as Lam Son 810 and is aimed at disrupting the flow of supplies into northernmost Quang Tri province through the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and neighboring Laos. Task force elements were no closer than 18 miles to the Laotian border, South Vietnamese military spokesmen said in their official acknowledgment of the campaign. Military sources said the government had no intention of mounting another cross border drive like last spring's Lam Son 719 into Laos. The U.S. command reported only one major incident involving U.S. forces in South Vietnam Tuesday. Two crew of an Army OH6 helicopter were killed when their machine was shot down 24 miles west-southwest of Saigon. South Vietnamese spokesmen said they acknowledged that Lam Son 810 was underway today only because of earlier news agency accounts of the massive operation. The South Vietnamese command had reported that a Communist attack wounded at least three Vietnamese troops and an American advisor. It was the Saigon government's first acknowledgment of the new operation.

New Explosions Rock Three Belfast Locales

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Explosions today damaged a Belfast tire company, a club and a supermarket, an army spokesman said. Five persons were treated at a hospital for shock. At Newry, a gunman shot a soldier on sentry duty outside army barracks, the spokesman said. The wound, in the trooper's foot, was not serious, he said. The sentry returned the fire but it was not known whether the assailant was hit. In a separate incident, an army patrol in Newry was fired on but there were no casualties. In political developments, opposition and civil rights leaders rebuffed a call by Reginald Maudling, the British Home Secretary, for talks on ways of giving Roman Catholics more power in the province. Austin Currie, a Social and Democratic Labor Party member of the Northern Ireland Parliament, said Maudling's offer showed "a dangerous lack of real knowledge of the situation in which we find ourselves." Bernadette Devlin, a member of the British Parliament and leader of a Roman Catholic civil rights campaign in Northern Ireland, said: "The talks have no chance of getting off the ground. If Mr. Maudling expects the civil rights campaign to be discouraged before talks take place, the talks will not be held because the civil rights campaign will continue until internees have been released." She referred to the more than 200 persons still interned in Northern Ireland since Premier Brian Faulkner's government introduced internment without trial in August. The move was aimed at ending violence in the province and had as its main target the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA). A 72-hour suspension of operations by the militant Provisional Wing of the IRA runs out at midnight tonight. It was called Sunday to give Britain time to consider a five-point "peace plan."

A Washington-Moscow First — Negotiation on Incidents

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is reported about to send a top Pentagon official to Moscow to start negotiating an end to high-seas harassments and similar cold-war-type naval incidents.

The October mission by Undersecretary of the Navy John W. Warner is believed the first in which a high-ranking U.S. defense official has traveled to the Russian capital for significant discussion with Soviet authorities. Normally, such chores are handled by diplomats.

Warner, a lawyer, is director of the Pentagon's new Office of Ocean Affairs. Among his responsibilities is preparation of Defense Department positions on such issues as the law of the sea and the right of passage through various straits.

Nixon administration sources indicate the United States took the initiative in arranging Warner's trip, picturing the mission in the context of gradual movement toward U.S.-Soviet agreement on such basic questions as strategic arms limitations and mutual force reductions in Europe.

Officials suggest the United States and Russia share concerns in the face of rapidly spreading claims by other countries to extended limits of national waters, sometimes up to 200 miles from shore.

One Pentagon source called the Warner mission a breakthrough. The history of the cold war is pockmarked by complaints from the United States and Russia about high-seas harassment.

American commanders have told of Soviet trawlers in the Tonkin Gulf cutting in front of U.S. aircraft carriers to disrupt plane launchings, of Russian destroyers grazing U.S. vessels during an exercise in the Sea of Japan, of Soviet ships steaming through American naval formations in the Mediterranean.

Last year a Soviet trawler, reported equipped with electronic monitoring gear, came within about 200 yards of the Polaris submarine James Madison off Florida while the sub was preparing to test a multi-warhead Poseidon missile. The firing was postponed.

Several years ago, Adm. Sergei Gorskov, commander in chief of the Soviet Navy, accused U.S. naval commanders of "evil intentions" in sailing near Russian fleet units. And, the military newspaper Red Star claimed once that an American destroyer "tried literally to shoulder aside a submarine" taking supplies from a tender in the Mediterranean.

Yablonski, 59, his wife, Margaret, 57, and their 25-year-old daughter Charlotte were shot to death while in their beds at about 1:30 a.m. on New Year Eve of 1969. Yablonski was leader of a dissident UMW faction opposed to the leadership of UMW President W. A. (Tony) Boyle.

In his confession, Vealey told how he, Martin and Gilly entered the Yablonski home and shot the victims to death, screamed he fired two more shots into her and two more shots into Yablonski. Costa said there was no immediate indication of when the three suspects brought here today would be arraigned.

"That's strictly up to the court," he said. "They must not immediately take part in the killings. But he said he later cleared the weapon jam court-appointed before anything and when Mrs. Yablonski else."

Yablonski Murders

Pa. Sets Stage for Trial of Five

WASHINGTON, Pa. (UPI)—Pennsylvania won an 18-month extradition battle early today and set the stage for trial of five persons charged with murdering United Mine Workers official Joseph A. Yablonski, his wife and daughter.

District Attorney Jess R. Costa said three of the suspects in the case were brought here to face arraignment on charges in the Dec. 31, 1969 slayings at the Yablonski home at nearby Clarksville, Pa.

The suspects were Paul Gilly, 36, his wife, Annette, 29, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Gilly's father, Silous Huddleston, 71, of Lafollette, Tenn. The three were brought here from Ohio after the Ohio Supreme Court ruled 7-0 Tuesday against their extradition appeals.

Two other persons, Claude Vealey, 26, and Aubran Martin, 21, both of Cleveland, were extradited from Ohio earlier this year. On June 23, Vealey pleaded guilty to the murder of Yablonski and his wife and daughter.

INNOCENT VICTIM—Peter Gallagher carries the coffin of his 18-month-old daughter Angela prior to burial at Milltown Cemetery in Belfast, Ireland. The child was shot in the head by IRA terrorists when bullets fired from a speeding car aimed at a British army patrol went astray. More violence pushed the total death toll over the 100 mark. First Time No Losses For U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon did not issue a casualty list from the Vietnam War Tuesday—because it had no casualties to report for the first time since Sept. 2, 1965.

The first list in 1965 contained the names of 13 war dead, and every day since then, except on weekends and holidays, the Defense Department has released a list of those victims whose next of kin had been notified.

At the height of the war the list sometimes ran a dozen or more pages. In recent weeks it has dwindled to as few as one or two names.

In the past six years the lists have reported the combat deaths of 45,471 Americans, and the names of 9,742 others who died of non-hostile causes. There are now 1,008 Americans listed as missing due to hostile causes and 142 missing due to non-hostile causes.

Vatican Ends Silence on Body of Eva

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Vatican broke five days of silence Tuesday to issue a curt denial that it had anything to do with the hiding of Eva Peron's body or its return to her husband.

Rome's largest circulation newspaper insisted today that its story about Vatican involvement was true and asked why the denial took so long to come.

The embalmed body of Argentina's former first lady, which had been buried in a secret place for 16 years, was delivered to exiled former dictator Juan Domingo Peron in Madrid last Friday. Madrid reports said it came from Milan and Italian newspapers said it had been hidden in Italy since Peron's fall in a bloodless coup in 1955.

The Vatican's only previous reaction to the reports was a spokesman's statement Sunday that "there is nothing to say." Many newspapers had interpreted that statement as ending weight to the reports of Vatican involvement.
